Mother's Companion Arrested As Suspect

By ROSS DAVIS
and BRYCE W. ANDERSON

A 16-month-old boy died today in Marin General Hospital of beating injuries which an attending physician described as the worst of that kind he had ever seen.

Sheriff's deputies said the child was beaten unconscious while his 21-year-old mother was at work at a San Rafael drive-in cafe.

They arrested her common-law husband, Eugene A. Boehm, 21-year-old unemployed furniture finisher. He was held in county jail in lieu of $11,000 bail today on a felony child beating charge.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Michael Dufficy said he would file the child-beating complaint pending further investigation and outcome of an autopsy which was being performed today by Dr. John H. Manwaring, county pathologist.

The child, Timothy Wayne Buckley, son of Mrs. Roberta Buckley of 70 Lucky Drive, Greenbrae, never regained consciousness after the mother took it into the hospital emergency ward at 11:05 a.m. yesterday. He died at 5:15 a.m. today.

Dr. Arthur L. Ablin, one of three physicians who tried in vain to save the baby's life, declared, "I've just not seen anything quite this bad in my years of practice."

He said virtually the entire body was a mass of bruises. Both buttocks were solidly black and blue, and the arms and legs nearly as extensively bruised, he said. There are numerous black and blue swollen areas on the head, and surgery disclosed massive brain damage.

MOTHER'S STORY

Mrs. Buckley told doctors the child had been injured by falling from the car seat when she swerved to avoid another car about 20 minutes earlier. As to the bruised buttocks, she had a baby sitter who used to spank the baby.

"The injuries were not compatible with a fall in the last 20 minutes," said Dr. Albin, nor with mere spankings.

Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley said the child, Mrs. Buckley's son by an earlier marriage, was apparently beaten severely with a blunt object by an adult.

POLICE CALLED

Witnesses Want To Be Attorneys

WASHINGTON (AP) — Witnesses whose attorneys marched out of a stormy hearing of the House Committee on Un-American Activities insisted today they will act as their own lawyers.

Jerry C. Rubin of Berkeley, Calif., said he was expressing the views of the dozen witnesses called to testify about their anti-Viet Nam war activities, when he said: "As of now, I'm my own lawyer."

Committee counsel Alfred M. Nittle, asked whether the committee would let the witnesses testify without legal representation, said only "we will face that when it comes."

The morning session was devoted almost entirely to testimony of Edwin Meese, assistant district attorney of Alameda County (Berkeley) Calif., who told of activities of a number of witnesses in various anti-Viet Nam war groups.

Committee Chairman Edwin Willis asked Meese about a planned march on the Oakland Army Terminal.

"Would you say the legislation we are considering has nothing to do with discussion, but has to do with unlawful, overt acts against our government and to give aid and confort to the enemy? Trying to stop the movement of troops and material?" Willis asked.

"People who would do these things fall short of loyalty to this government. Let's call them what it is. They are yellowbellied cowards," Willis snapped.

Meese testified the ultimate objective of the planned march was the Oakland Army Terminal.

"The commanding general of the Oakland Army terminal asked this not be allowed," he said.

Meese also said the Viet Nam Committee had plans for a long siege after blocking with a chain of human bodies all entraces to the Oakland terminal.

"They had made arrangements for food and 40 portable toilets," he said.

The march was set for Oct. 15 and 16 last year and Meese said 3,000 persons did leave the campus of the University of California but were stopped in Oakland.

He said a "second concern" of Oakland plice was that the planned march "would go right through the most inflammable area of the city and might result in a community disorder."

He told of a "soldier leaflet" prepared for distribution with statements that "we must urge action by soldiers to demand the truth about Viet Nam and to take individual action to refuse to fight in Viet Nam."

"You may have to fight but don't fight too hard," Meese said the leaflet proclaimed, adding "If you do refuse to fight there are plenty of people to back you up."

Meese told of a long series of activities on behalf of the Viet Day Committee by Jerry C. Rubin, Steven Cherkoss and John Windrin Smith Jr., all among the witnesses called by the House committee.

Meese did say that "it cost $10,000 an hour to protect the Nov. 20 parade by the VDC." He said that covered costs for state troopers, police and other law enforcement personnel.

Arthur A. Kinoy, an American Civil Liberties Union attorney, who was dragged out of the hearing by federal marshals yesterday, pleaded innocent today to charges of disorderly conduct.

If the witnesses are dismissed, the committee could start questioning a number of people waiting to testify on the

Optimism In Airline Pact Vote

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Rank and file members of the striking airline machinists union are indicating they will give their proposed contract "a big yes vote" tomorrow, according to union sources.

Sentiment among the highly-independent 35,400 members of the International Association of Machinists is building toward ratification on the new three-year pact, the sources said yesterday.

AFL-CIO President George Meany urged the airline machinists yesterday to "secure your great victory" by accepting the contract agreed to by their negotiators early this week.

In Los Angeles executives boards of Los Angeles locals representing striking machinists of United Air Lines and Trans World are recommending rejection of a proposed contract with the carriers.

Tom Foster, strike chairman for Local 193 representing 875 UAL machinists, said after the board met last night that the new proposal did not warrant "even serious consideration" as to its acceptance. He said the new proposal had no significant changes from a previous offer.

In a separate action the board of Lodge 1111, which represents 1,200 striking employes of TWA, also recommended its members not to accept the proposed contract.

And in San Francisco, Machinists Local 1781, the largest unit involved in the long strike against five major airlines, today deferred announcing its leaders' recommendation on the latest contract proposal.

Bombers Hit Cong Tunnels

SAIGON (UPI) —U.S. Air Force B-52 bombers today unloaded hundreds of tons of explosives on a suspected Viet Cong tunnel complex, arms factory and base camp 325 miles north of Saigon. American planes also battled again with Communist MIG jets over North Viet Nam, U.S. military spokesmen disclosed.

The weekly American casualty report issued in Saigon today showed U.S. combat deaths

Bradley Claim Doubted By Safety Group

The Marin County Safety Commission, which reviews all on-the-job accidents suffered by county employees, shied away from the dispute over the county coroner today.

Before them was an injury reported by asst. coroner William C. Bradley, who said he strained the elbow and muscles in his right arm June 24 when carrying a body down some wooden steps.

"There is some question if this accident really took place," declared Martin Nelson, personnel analyst for the county and a member of the commission.

He said Bradley had given the injury as the reason for requesting mortuaries to send two men rather than one to pick up bodies in coroner's cases.

Tourist Crashes Into Dress Shop

When the dust settled, the car front was 17 feet inside the shop.

The injured pedestrian, Mrs. Ellen B. Ornstein, 47, of San Francisco, was treated at Marin General Hospital for cuts and bruises. The car apparently sideswiped her as it hurtled into the store.

Walking west on Throckmorton with her husband, Richard D. Ornstein, 59, and their teenage daughter. They were not injured, but were badly shaken by the accident.

Driver of the car, Jay M. Sommer of the Bronx, N.Y., told police he was parking in the diagonal space in front of the store at 11:35 a.m. when his foot slipped from the brake to the gas pedal. He could not remember what happened after that. He was unhurt.

Luckiest person was Mrs. Ruth L. Murphy of Sonoma, owner of the shop. She was alone behind an L-shaped sales counter. The powerful station wagon smashed the counter against the wall, leaving Mrs. Murphy just enough room to breathe.

Mrs. Murphy, who was celebrating her 65th birthday, was treated at Marin General Hospital for bruises.

Sommer told police he was not familiar with the car, borrowed from his brother-in-law, Dr. Albert A. Kopp of 179 Roque Moraes Drive. Sommer is a school teacher in New Rochelle, N.Y.

Police said the impact of the collision sheared off a parking meter and obliterated the brick and glass store front. No estimate of damage to the store was available.

Four women were in the rear of the store, but none was injured. Until the car was towed away 40 minutes later, the only access to the store was through a rear door.

Department Of Interior Offers To Take Redwood Land Option

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Department of Interior offered last night to take an immediate option on 18,000 acres of redwood forest land in Northern California if the timber firm owning it would agree to stop cutting down the huge trees. (See early story, page 35).

The offer, by Secretary Stewart L. Udall, culminated a day of Senate hearings on a proposal to create a national park out of 42,234 acres of prime redwood timber in Del Norte County.

Udall's offer, as explained by aides, would permit Miller-Rellim Co, to continue cutting its residual timber outside the park boundaries with some monetary adjustments for inefficiencies such operations would entail.

Company President Harold A. Miller, who earlier turned down an impassioned plea from Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., that cutting be stopped on proposed park ladn, said he would listen to what Udall had to offer.

"It is abundantly clear that any continuation of cutting over the proposed park area would eliminate its desirability for public park purposes," Kuchel said. He then asked Miller to stop cutting until after the next session of Congress.

There was virtually no likelihood of the park bill being passed this session.

In response to the request, Miller said his company did not plan to quit cutting. In fact, he said, it planned to continue its expansion plans in Del Norte County.

Earlier, Miller read a lengthy letter in reply to an attack Kuchel made on the Senate floor against the lumber firm. He denied the company was "destructively accelerating" its cutting because of the proposed park. He cited figures to show that in 1965 the company cut over 331 acres and that this year's operations would cut only 225 acres of virgin timber.

To stop operations, as requested by Kuchel, Miller said would be "disastrous" to the entire economy of the region.

Miller followed a number of witnesses representing conservation organizations, most of whom wanted a bigger national park than the 42,234-acre preserve proposed.

They included Carl W. Buchheister, president of the Audubon Society; Dr. Robert Reinow, director of the Defenders of Wildlife; Stephen Jett of the University of California at Davis; Ralph M. Townsend, Fairfax, Va., appearing as a private individual, and Dr. Edgar Wayburn, representing the Sierra Club.

Four Pagan Errors

NEW YORK (AP) — Third baseman Jose Pagan of Pittsburgh committed four errors, three in the fourth inning to tie a National League record, and was responsible for six unearned runs as the New York Mets led the leagueleaders 6-2 through five innings today.

Who Shot Alice Seal?

Alice Parsons, the sea lion at San Rafael's Louise A. Boyd Museum, was taken to an animal hospital today after museum workers discovered she had been shot while swimming in her pool.

The discovery was made while explorer and naturalist Louise A. Boyd, for whom the museum is named, was touring the premises.

About five wounds, apparently caused by a pellet gun of some sort, were found in the sea lion's side.

POLICE NOT AMUSED BY FAKE TICKET

An obsolete book of parking tickets, believed lost during the San Rafael Police Department's move to its quarters in the new city hall, has turned up in the hands of a prankster.

Ruprecht Kammerlander of 10 Corte Del Norte, Greenbrae, last week turned in citation No. B-90188 to municipal court and complained that none of the charges were true: "No wipers. Faulty smog control. Parking too close to mailbox. Blocking driveway."

Yesterday, the court advised the police it was holding Kammerlander's pink copy but had not yet received the original citation.

Deputy Police Chief Joseph J. Brusatori said the number was from an old book no longer in use.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

McNamara Climbs

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and his party were expected to reach the 10,000-foot level of Mt. Rainier today on the first leg of an ascent of the 14,410-foot mountain. McNamara is recovered from a bit of ankle trouble reported earlier.

Japan Aid Forecast

TOKYO (AP) — Edwin O. Reischauer, the departing U.S. ambassador to Japan, said today it is conceivable that one day the United States and Japan might join in giving aid to Communist China.

Soviet Air Help

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union said today it was ready — if asked — to help North Viet Nam with its air force as well as other military personnel. Premier Alexei N. Kosygin wrote British philosopher Bertrand Russell the Soviet air force was ready to act "the moment the request comes."

City Robberies Up

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco crime rate increased three per cent during the first half of 1966, especially robberies, according to the police department's information bureau. Robberies increased 24 per cent over last year, from 1,174 to 1,461 incidents.

Castro Called Fear-Haunted

MIAMI (UPI)—A Cuban diplomat who defected from the Communist regime pictured Fidel Castro yesterday as a man who is haunted by fear and surrounded by discontent and conspiracy.

"Sooner or later these conspiracies will result in Castro's overthrow," said Dr. Leonel Alonso, 34, who left his post as ambassador to Lebanon last week and sought asylum in the U.S. embassy.

Alonso, who brought his wife and 5-year-old daughter into exile with him, said Castro's fear and insecurity at home has led him to make Cuban embassies throughout the world centers of espionage and subversion.

Encephalitis Strikes Texas

DALLAS (UPI)—Three Air Force planes will take off tomorrow in an assault on the Culex mosquito, the carrier of encephalitis, a fatal disease that has spread across Dallas County in epidemic proportions. Three persons have died and at least 64 others have been stricken with the disease.

The planes, carrying a payload of deadly insecticide, were ordered into action yesterday when health officials said they were convinced the epidemic would get much worse if something wasn't done. As many as 88 cases of encephalitis have been suspected.

Top-Level Switch In China

TOKYO (AP)—Red China indicated officially today that Defense Minister Marshal Lin Piao is now the country's No. 2 man. It gave signs he might even be on a par with Mao Tze-tung himself. The New China News Agency said Lin, 59, standing "shoulder to shoulder" with Mao, 72, addressed a million people in Peking on behalf of Mao and the Central Committee of the Chinese Communist party.

Evidence that the defense minister had pushed President Liu Shao-chi out of the No. 2 spot came when Lin was officially listed first after Mao.

Liu was listed eighth among those on the reviewing stand at the rally in Peking's Gate of Heavenly Peace Square. He was not called upon to speak, although he had been the spokesman for the Central Committee until the first of this month.

Another Auto Safety Bill Will Spur Programs

WASHINGTON (UPI) —With safety features a certainty for 1968 model cars, the House turned today to a bill to improve highways, drivers and law enforcement.

The House passed 371 to 0 yesterday a bill that would require features such as padded dashboards, shoulder harnesses, recessed knobs and handles, and fail-safe brakes on new model cars, appearing in the fall of 1967.

The House-passed measure went beyond a Senate version in its requirement of safety features in used cars two years from now. Its new car provisions were essentially the same as those sought by the Senate.

Safety champion Ralph Nader termed the House auto safety measure "by and large a significant step forward if the government makes sure the industry does not use safety to raise prices at a time when they should be dropping."

Action today was on a bill that would authorize $270 million over three years to spur a wide range of traffic safety programs ranging from highway lighting to improved driver licensing and training proceduress. A Senate-passed bill would devote $465 million to such programs.

The differences between the House and Senate safety features bills will be resolved in a conference committee.

Both auto safety bills are aimed at reducing death and injury from the "second collision" which occurs when occupants are hurled around inside a car after impact.

Dow Wilson Trial Jury To Add Extras

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Efforts continued today to select five alternate jurors for the trial of three men charged with plotting the shotgun murder of AFL-CIO Painters Union leader Dow Wilson.

Alternates were being picked to guard against illness or disability among the regular jurors, and there were indications that at least one of the alternates would be needed immediately.

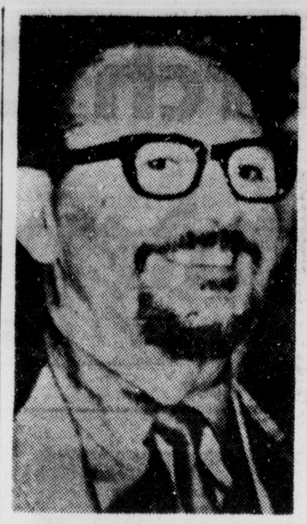
Just after the seven-woman, five-man jury was selected yesterday, one of the jurors, Mrs. Gertrude G. Dady, told Superior Court Judge Norman Elkington she didn't feel well and suffers high blood pressure.

Judge Elkington rejected an attorney's plea for a mistrial and told Mrs. Dady to keep her place on the jury until a group of alternates was selected.

Wilson, 45, was shot down on a San Francisco street April 5. The leader of a Painters Union local here, he had criticized the handling of a Sacramento local's welfare fund.

Black, 47, of Oakland, was auditor of the fund. Call, 46, and Ward, 39, are Sacramento painting contractors who had been employer trustees for the fund.

Richard Rock, 35, of Mill Valley, a San Francisco bar owner, and Clyde Simmonds, 75, of Sacramento, also were arrested in the case and are to get separate trials.



AMONG FBI'S TOP TEN — Edward Owen Watkins, believed to be accompanied by stripper Kathleen Marie Rosen, is on the Federal Bureau of Investigation's "10 most wanted" list for a series of bank robberies, which, during a period of less than five months in 1965, netted $103,000 in loot.

Joint Campaign Fund Drive Set

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A joint effort to solicit campaign contributions by the Democratic and Republican parties was discussed by their state chairmen yesterday.

Robert L. Coate, the Democratic chairmen, and his Republican counterpart, Gaylord Parkinson, said the drive could yield an estimated $2 million for both parties.

They said the fund-raising drive is organized through a non-profit foundation, The California Good Citizenship Committee.

Tiny Lost Capsule Highly Dangerous

NEW YORK (AP) — A small capsule of radium — pronounced potentially "highly dangerous" to any one handling it — has been lost in shipment by rail from Fort Worth, Tex., to New York City.

Physicists have warned the public, especially persons living along the main railroad routes between the two cities, not to pick up the silvery metal capsule if it is found.

The cylinder is less than an inch long and its diameter is the size of a dime. At one end of the cylinder is an engraved serial number, 155001.

Hanson Blatz, director of the Office of Radiation Control of the New York City Department of Health, said the radium is dangerous only to someone who has been in close contact with the capsule for longer than 30 minutes.

A widespread search for the capsule was started after its loss was discovered Tuesday when a battered package supposed to contain the radium was delivered to the Radium Chemical Co. of Woodside, Queens.

The capsule was being returned to that company from the Gearhart-Owen Co., Fort Worth, which had leased the 300 milligrams of radium to help chart the geological strata of an oil well.

Authorities were unable to determine the nature of the contents of the canister, which was marked "danger-radioactive." A geiger counter showed the contents to be radioactive. Authorities sought to determine whether the canister might have been handled by someone before the workmen found it.

Reserves Can Be Called Up By New Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate, overriding objections from the White House and the Pentagon, has given President Johnson standby authority to call up thousands of reservists for possible active duty in Viet Nam.

Voting 66-21 yesterday to tie the provision to the pending $58.2-billion annual defense money bill, the Senate heeded arguments that many draft-age youths were joining the Army Reserve and National Guard to avoid duty in the Southeast Asian war.

"We can't permit the six-month reserve training program to become an umbrella to avoid active service," declared Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., a former secretary of the Air Force.

President Johnson and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara have rejected previous proposals for mobilizing any of the citizen-soldier units of the armed services.

A SLIGHT CASE OF MISJUDGMENT

It happened on the Ohio River, at Neville, Ohio. State Police said Chester E. Pangburn, 52, Newport, Ky., drove his 17 foot runabout, powered by a 75-hp motor, at a high rate of speed toward three fishermen. Pangburn misjudged his distance before swerving and ran up the river bank and atop a station wagon parked 30 feet from the water on Tuesday. The errant boatman faces intoxication charges.

Bloodhounds Aid Police London Murder Hunt

LONDON (UPI) —About 500 armed policemen, including commando-trained sharpshooters from Scotland Yard, searched suburban Epping Forest with bloodhounds today for an "armed and desperate" scar-faced suspect in the murders of three London detectives.

In a rare move to facilitate the capture of the last of three suspects in the cold blooded Friday killings, Scotland Yard last night released a picture of Harry Maurice Roberts, 30, and said he might be disguised as a camper or hiker and trying to flee from London.

The picture of Roberts, whose face is distinctly scarred, was splashed on the front pages of several London newspapers today. Police termed him "armed and desperate" and warned citizens not to try to apprehend him on their own.

Britain's manhunt of the century zeroed in on the forest, eight miles east of London after a man walking his dog reported seeing a man with a rucksack who resembled Roberts' description.

Police said a man answering Roberts' description was believed to have bought camping gear and clothes in a London shop Monday.

Two of the three suspects in Britain's worst police killing in 56 years are already in custody. The search narrowed to Roberts yesterday when 37-year-old John Duddy was nabbed in a Glasgow, Scotland, tenement. Duddy, identified by a forearm tottoo bearing the legend, "true unto death," was unarmed when police stormed in.

The other man in police custody, 36-year-old John Witney, has been formally charged with participating "with others" in the murders.

The three unarmed plainclothes officers were fatally shot Friday after they stopped to question three men in a station wagon on a quiet West London residential street near Wormwood Scrubs prison.

Cabinet Aides Defend LBJ On Urban Renewal Ideas

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Another top administration official today denied implications that President Johnson has been "derelict" in combatting the ills plaguing the nation's riot-torn cities.

Secretary John W. Gardner of Health, Education and Welfare defended administration programs in testimony before the Senate subcommittee on executive reorganization.

The panel is trying to determine the effectiveness of $13 billion in federal aid to U.S. cities this year.

"I cannot find this Congress nor this administration derelict in its attention to the problem," Gardner told the panel.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., a subcommittee member, has accused the administration of failing to spend enough on urban aid programs.

Gardner said the administration did not consider mere spending a solution to city problems.

"I think we should be particularly wary of the old American habit of spending a lot of money to still our anxieties," he said.

Atty. Gen Nicholas Katzenbach had told the panel that the administration was spending $13 billion in 1966 in direct urban aid to transform cities into what the President calls "masterpieces of civilization." to 40 cities where tensions could burst into rioting at any time.

The attorney general refused to predict where the next outbreak would come, nor would he blame individuals or past administrations for the current crisis of the cities.

"It is an American failure," he said. "They (the cities) are the product of generations of indifference by all the American people to the rot and rust and mold we have allowed to eat into the core of our cities."

TODAY WAS MOVING DAY

San Rafael's newest fire station won't be formally dedicated till Nov. 5, but that doesn't mean it won't be a busy place until then. Firemen moved in gear this morning and are all ready to roll at the drop of an alarm. Carrying supplies and equipment into the $80,000 station on San Pedro Road in Glenwood are Fire Insp. Dennis Jensen, Fred Bishop, Capt. George Hasler, Deputy Chief Francis Rodgers, and Wayne Kovacs. (Independent-Journal photo) the sheriff's office when it appeared the case was not within his jurisdiction.

BABY

"It was not a pretty sight," said Chief Clark, who viewed the mutilated infant in the hospital.

Dr. Ablin, Dr. Maurice C. Smith, and Dr. George Ordway all treated the child. Dr. Ablin said the little boy was not only unconscious but "was non-reactive to any stimuli."

Sheriff's investigators put together this account of what happened, after questioning Mrs. Buckley, Boehm, and Michael William Todd, 21, who lives with the other two in a sparsely furnished, four-room frame house at the Lucky Drive address:

Todd drove Mrs. Buckley to her job at the Gold Nugget Drive-in, 2200 Fourth Street, San Rafael, about 6:45 a.m.

When he returned home, he was met by Boehm with the injured child, officers said. Boehm, quoted as saying the child fell off the dining table, and Todd drove the child to the drive-in to fetch Mrs. Buckley, passing the hospital turnoff road en route.

Boehm later told officers a similar story of the injuries to that given by Mrs. Buckley at the hospital. He said the baby was injured when thrown to the car floor as the car suddenly braked for a traffic light.

With the mother, Boehm and Todd drove to the hospital. Mrs. Buckley carried the child inside, Boehm and Todd, a part-time heavy equipment operator who also had lived with Boehm and Mrs. Buckley in Fairfax before they moved to Lucky Drive two months ago, drove around the hospital vicinity for several minutes.

Officers said the two halted to make telephone calls to the hospital, then Todd dropped Boehm off at the home and returned the automobile to a relative.

Boehm, riding a bicycle, was later taken into custody near the hospital for questioning by Harvey Teague, sheriff's juvenile inspector. Boehm, Todd and Mrs. Buckley all were taken to the sheriff's office for questioning. They also were quizzed by Leonard Shaw, assistant district attorney.

Shaw said an examination of the home, rented for $155 a month, disclosed a few drops of what appeared to be blood in the bathroom and in the mother's bedroom. He said the house contained almost no furniture, and no chairs.

Sheriff's Inspector Marco Melovich said there are no beds in the house, that the occupants, including the victim, slept on mattresses on the floor.

Motive for any beating was unknown by officers. They said Mrs. Buckley, a small blonde woman weighing about 95 pounds, married three years ago in Galveston, Texas. She left the husband, moving to California.

Officers said she told them John Bernard De Bisschop, 23, of 26 Scenic Avenue, San Anselmo, is father of the child.

They said Mrs. Buckley, who began working at Gold Nugget in July, met Boehm 10 months ago. She has no other children.

Deputies said a Lagunitas woman and her daughter, both bay-sitters at various times for the victim, declared they once asked the county welfare department about gaining permanent custody of the child on grounds of inadequate care by the mother.

The daughter was quoted as saying the baby once appeared extremely frightened of a young man named "Gene" who went to the Lagunitas home.

Mother and daughter said they had never witnessed any beating, however.

Boehm has a minor police record, including an arrest for investigation of burglary in Marin County on April 13, 1964. The case was reduced to petty theft, however, and Boehm was given a six-day county jail term, fined $56, and placed on two years probation.

need for legislation to curb anti-war activities.

More than three dozen persons have been arrested during two days of hearings — 19 of them yesterday — most for shouting, hissing and cheering during the tumultuous sessions in the sprawling hearing room.

Bills sponsored by Pool and other committee members would slap maximum $20,000 fines and 20-year prison sentences on Americans who block shipment of U.S. men and materials to Viet Nam, or who help the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong.

Tiburon Teens Get Beer Theft Quiz

The Tiburon sheriff's substation cited a 17-year-old Belvedere girl for possession of beer and were to question four other Tiburon youths in connection with the theft of a case of beer from the Tiburon Peninsula Club.

Lt. George R. Barnes said the girl was picked up Tuesday night at the top of Lyford Drive with several cans of beer. He reported she said she had been drinking with several other teenagers.

The Tiburon Peninsula Club was entered by jimmying two doors leading to the bar with a screwdriver to get to the beer.

Two of the Tiburon boys were placed in Juvenile Hall because of lack of parental control, Lieutenant Barnes said.

BRADLEY

T. Gooch charged that Bradley was harassing him. Gooch brought other charges against coroner Frank J. Keaton, but county supervisors Tuesday said Gooch would have to take his allegations to the proper investigative agencies — presumably, the Grand Jury or District Attorney.

"I don't think we should do anything with this until the Grand Jury investigates," Nelson said.

Commissioner Mansfield Lewis moved that the accident report be tabled, and this passed unanimously.

Commission secretary Wallace Chipman noted that the accident was not reported within the required 30-day limit.

The commission recommended one day's suspension without pay for Mario Robello of the County Road Department, who evidently released the switch for the air brake safety system on his truck when there was no compression in the tanks at the start of work July 21. The truck rolled into the rear of another, causing $330 damage.

The commission asked for a recommendation from the public Works Department on the case of road maintenance man Robert A. Farley, who suffered a broken right ankle July 18 while jumping a ditch to get into the Greenbrae Corporation Yard.

Commissioners wanted a report from the Public Works Department because of two prior loss-of-time accidents for Farley, on Nov. 23, and June 16 of last year.

Two Arrested In Car Theft

Two young men were just too conspicuous for too long in too expensive a car yesterday, and Novato Police became suspicious.

The two were driving a 1965 White Corvair Stingray around the city. A check on the license number showed that the car had been stolen in San Francisco.

Booked into Marin County Jail on auto theft charges with bail set at $1,100 each were Rickey Craig Rosser, 18, of 1445 Pastel Lane, Novato, and David Raymond Sterior, 23, of San Francisco.

moved toward 5,000. Spokesmen said 101 Americans were killed in action last week and 593 wounded. The U.S. death toll in Viet Nam now stands at 4,711.

Spokesmen said the ratio of Communist dead to Americans killed last week was better than 14 to 1. They reported 1,436 Communists killed and 284 captured in the week ending Aug. 13.

The air war over the North claimed two more American planes.

A Navy F8 Crusader was hit by antiaircraft fire today and crashed into the Tonkin Gulf 15 miles northeast of vinh. The pilot parachuted into the water and was picked up by a helicopter, spokesmen said.

An Air Force F105 Thunderchief went down yesterday—cause unknown — 85 miles west F Hanoi. Its two-man crew was listed as missing.

Air Force Thunderchiefs attacking a petroleum storage depot 10 miles outside Hanoi yesterday clashed with three Communist MIG-17 jets, Saigon officials said.

No American or Communist planes were damaged in the two aerial encounters.

OBITUARIES

Fred J. Walker Dies At 65

Funeral services were pending in San Francisco today for Fred J. Walker, retired newspaper editor and father of James B. Walker of Corte Madera.

Walker died Tuesday night in Boston of a heart attack. He was 65.

A native of Buffalo, N.Y., he began his 44-year newspaper career at 19 in The Dalles, Ore. He later worked as reporter or re-write man for the San Francisco Examiner, the Oakland Tribune, the Los Angeles Herald-Express and Chicago Herald-Examiner. He worked for the now defunct International News Service in Washington, Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

He was city editor of the Sacramento Union, and the old San Francisco Bulletin and its successor, the Call-Bulletin. He also served as editor of the Pittsburg Post-Dispatch in Contra Costa County.

He retired two years ago after several years as a salesman for King Features Syndicate.

Surviving are three sons, Frank Walker of Brazil, Michael Walker of Boston, and James Walker; three daughters, Mrs. Patricia Driscoll of Walnut Creek, Mrs. Elizabeth Huttlinger of Alexandria, Va., and Mrs. Sheila Browning of Los Angeles; a sister, Mrs. Helen Barton of Portland, Ore., and 28 grandchildren.

JAMES E. WILLBURN

Funeral for James Edward Willburn of Willits, father of Sidney Willburn of Novato and Mrs. Pearl Redlin of San Rafael, was scheduled today in Willits.

Willburn, 79, died Tuesday in a Willits hospital. He had lived in Willits for 34 years and was a retired rancher and school custodian.

He is survived by two sons, Sidney Willburn and Albert L. Willburn of Willits; four daughters, Mrs. Redlin, Mrs. Marjorie Meek of Ukiah, Mrs. Gertrude Zanella of Willits, and Mrs. Freda Pedrotti of Petaluma; 13 grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

A. ALBERTONI

Requiem Mass for Arturo Albertoni of Vallejo, a former Marin dairyman, will be offered Saturday at 10:30 a.m. at St. Basil's Church, Vallejo.

Albertoni, 73, died Wednesday in a Napa hospital following a short illness. He was born in Rivera, Switzerland. He was a member of St. Basil's Parish, and a life member of Druids Grove 42, Nicasio.

He is survived by one son, Angelo Albertoni of Vallejo; one brother, Paulo Albertoni of Lugano, Switzerland, and three grandchildren.

Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Twin Chapels Mortuary, 1100 Tennessee Street, Vallejo, followed by a memorial service by the United Ancient Order of Druids.

Credit Freeze Spurs Market Downward Slide

NEW YOR K (AP) — Stock prices fell sharply late this afternoon as Wall Street's pessimism thickened following additional credit restrictions by the Federal Reserve Board.

Brokers said uncertainty over the outcome of the airlines strike was among other factors leading to the selloff.

At 2 p.m,. the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was off 11.13 points at 808.46.

Trading picked up as the decline deepened.

Trading was halted in shares of Xerox Corp. after it dropped more than $15. Eastman Kodak fell $2 despite a dividend boost.

Credit has been tightened sharply this week, first by an increase in the prime interest rate and yesterday by Federal Reserve Board action.

WILLIAM WEIK

William E. Weik, a San Rafael painting contractor and resident of Marin for 42 years, died yesterday at his home at 188 Greenfield Avenue following a long illness.

Weik, 68, was born in Germany. He was a part owner of Weik Brothers Painters and Decorators Co.

He served in the 37th Combat Engineers Battalion during World War II, participating in the Normandy landings on D-Day.

He is survived by his brother, Paul Weik of San Rafael, and one sister, Mrs. Elsie Sohl of Napa.

Funeral will be held at 10 a.m. Monday at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

ALBERT RANDALL

Funeral for Albert H. Randall of Burlingame, a San Mateo County labor and civic figure and father of Mrs. Eliot Friberg of Sausalito, was scheduled today in San Francisco.

Randall, 79, who was one of the founders and the first president of the San Mateo County Central Labor Coucil, died Tuesday in San Francisco.

A native of Boston, Randall came West after serving as an Army sergeant in World War I. He served as executive secretary of the Master Plumbers Assn. for several years and was the association's business representative for eight years, retiring in 1960. He was one of the founders of the Peninsula Memorial Blood Bank.

Surviving Randall are his wife, Elizabeth, his daughter, and a grandson.

Baget Outlines Improvement Program On Streets, Parks

A $9,837,000 capital improvement program for streets and parks for Novato was recommended today by City Mgr. J. Julien Baget.

It includes $8,483,000 for streets and $1,354,000 for parks. Baget said it will be submitted to the Novato City Council next Tuesday.

The street and park projects comprise the first two parts of a list of city improvements for a bond issue proposed on May 10 by Councilman M. E. Babe Silva, Baget said.

Lawrence A. Coleman, Director of Public Works, has recommended 4 projects. Three of these, the Warner Creek Bridge on South Novato Boulevard, Center Road project 3 and the Novato Creek bridge at Diablo Avenue, were included although they either have been completed or are under construction.

Other major streets projects listed by Coleman include: Diablo Avenue from Center Road to Novato Boulevard; the Diablo - DeLong connection on Highway 101; Ignacio Boulevard at Entrada Drive, near Shafer Street and the connection to San Jose Boulevard; Arthur Street connection to Indian Valley Road; Wilson Avenue from Novato Boulevard to Vineyard Road; South Novato Boulevard, Diablo Avenue to Highway 101; Center Road from Lu Sutton School to Sutro Avenue; McClay Road from Novato Boulevard to Center Road; Sutro Avenue from Novato Boulevard to Vineyard Road; Tamalpais Avenue from Novato Boulevard to Hill Road; Novato Boulevard from Diablo to San Marin Drive and Simmons Lane from Novato Boulevard to San Marin Drive.

Money from these projects would come from these sources: $1,254,000 gasoline tax; $25,600 from the general fund; $248,400 from the county in urban thoroughfares funds: $22,000 from the Division of Highways, and $4,789 in bonds.

Parks and Recreation Director Edward W. Adams has proposed $150,375 for the Pioneer Memorial Park; $45,000 for Arroyo Avichi Park; $77,000 for four acres in San Marin adjacent to the junior high school site; $90,000 for the Lions Club Park at Stafford Dam; $140,000 for the Library Hill Park of six acres north of Marion Avenue, and $850,000 for the Canyon Lake Park.

In the park funds, $134,000 is available now through the special tax last year plus matching federal money, Adams said. This would leave $1,220,000 to come from a bond issue.

Adams also listed needs of the community in the future as: community center, $400,000; another swimming pool, $200,000; school site development at Marion, Lynwood, Olive and Pleasant Valley schools, $115,000. These were not included in his park bond program.

Cows Now May Safely Graze In Marinwood

Asst. County Zoning Administrator Ralph D. Cairns yesterday granted a variance to George Newell and Julie Sequeira for the grazing of up to 100 head of cattle on 276 acres north of Marinwood.

Conditions include a requirement that fences be no closer than 40 feet to residences and that water troughs and salt licks be at least 500 feet away.

Cairns has required relocation of fences in some places to move them back to 100 feet from residences.

Anyone protesting the variance has until 5 p.m. Wednesday to appeal the decision to the County Planning Commission.

Television Set Reported Stolen

Theft of a $135 television set from the home of Stanley K. Grant, 116 East Strawberry Drive, Strawberry, was reported yesterday by sheriff's deputies.

Officers said the house was entered by breaking a kitchen door's window pane.

Burglars also entered the Marin City Child Care Center at Manzanita School by breaking a skylight. An $88 phonograph was taken.

Deputies also reported an unsuccessful attempt to enter the home of Herbert M. Hanson Jr. at 6 Coronet Way, Kent Woodlands, by removing a bedroom screen.

Speck Counsel Asks Expert Examination

CHICAGO (AP) — Counsel for Richard Speck, accused of slaying eight student nurses, asked the Circuit Court today to appoint psychiatrists and psychologists to examine the defendant.

Gerald W. Getty, public defender who is representing Speck, asked that the experts determine Speck's capacity to stand trial and his mental state on July 13 and July 14.

The eight victims were strangled or stabbed, one by one, early on the morning of July 14 in their living quarters on Chicago's far Southeast Side.

Speck, 24, was led into the heavily-guarded courtroom for the 15-minute session. He appeared to be more alert and in better physical condition than at the time of his arraignment Aug. 1.

The nurses were killed by a man who broke into their dormitory, herded them into a bedroom where he bound their hands and then led them one by one to their deaths in other rooms of the dormitory. One nurse escaped by hiding under a bed.

Jury Reaches Guilty Verdict In 17 Minutes

A Marin Superior Court jury yesterday took just 17 minutes deliberation to convict James Hardy, 20, and Earl T. Guillory, 21, of burglary of Charlie's Market in San Rafael.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner ordered Hardy, of San Francisco, to a 90-day observation period at California Medical Facility in Vacaville. He delayed sentencing of Guillory, of 805 Fourth Street, San Rafael, to Sept. 6.

The two were arrested inside the grocery at 1701 Fourth Street by San Rafael police March 14. Trial began last Thursday. Gary Thomas, deputy district attorney, prosecuted.

Attorney Harold B. Hyde represented Guillory.

Hardy defended by Robert I. Cohn, was also ordered by Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court to 90-day observation period at Vacaville last Thursday on another felony conviction, battery on a police officer. The two observation periods will coincide.

Senate Bans Purchase Funds For TFX Plane

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has moved closer to another showdown with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara over the controversial multiservice TFX fighter-bomber.

By a voice vote yesterday, it approved a rider to the pending $58.2 billion annual defense money bill that would ban use of the funds to purchase any F111-Bs, the Navy's version of the plane.

The rider was offered by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., head of the Senate Permanent Investigations subcommittee and a sharp and frequent critic of McNamara's decision awarding the multibillion-dollar TFX contract to the General Dynamics Corp.

There is no announced plan to buy any of the Navy planes during the current fiscal year although development and experiments are proceeding.

McClellan has announced that his subcommittee will investigate anew the TFX contract to determine whether the United States is buying a second-best airplane. The senator has not set a date for the hearings.

The Navy has said it will decide in March or April whether it intends to go ahead with production of its version of the TFX.

The Pentagon has acknowledged that the per-unit cost of the TFX has risen beyond estimates — from $2.9 million to about $8 million — and that the Navy version will be far heavier and less mobile than originally thought.

Costs on producing a prototype of the F111B have soared from the original $84 million to over $210 million.

The TFX controversy erupted in 1962 after McNamara selected the General Dynamics design for a new all-purpose airplane over a lower estimate submitted by Boeing Aircraft Co.

The defense secretary argued then that the General Dynamics design offered a higher degree of common parts and would, in the long run, save an estimated $1 billion.

Auto Contract Share Asked By Production

DETROIT (AP) — Production-worker members of the United Auto Workers union are clamoring to be included if contracts with the Big Three automakers are reopened for any wage increases.

The UAW has requested reopening to give skilled tradesmen an immediate pay hike and has demanded an answer by Monday from General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp. Current contracts still have a year to run.

Industry sources had indicated the answer would be "No," even before production workers asked inclusion. They expressed fear of just such a demand from the Big Three's 700,000 semiskilled and unskilled workers.

The production worker request came from Ford Local 600, the UAW's largest with 30,000 production and 10,000 skilled members. All production unit chairmen dispatched a joint letter to UAW President Walter P. Reuther, asking inclusion in any reopening.

It quoted him as having told many union conventions, "Let us work together. Let us build together. Let us fight together. With teamwork in the leadership and solidarity in our ranks, we will win together."

Skilled tradesmen, outnumbered more than three to one in UAW ranks, stepped up pressure yesterday in their reopening campaign.

The union is asking at least a 50-cent hourly increase immediately for the skilled.

The Union told the top automakers that the requested 50-cent hike would include two items all auto workers are to get Sept. 5 under current contracts—a 2.8 per cent raise and a two-cent hourly last-year bonus.

This last-year increase would boost by more than 12 cents what the UAW figures is an average skilled rate of $3.78, and the union pointed out this would limit the actual out-of-pocket cost for the skilled to 38 cents hourly if the 50-cent increase was won.

The gain, however, would approximate 10 per cent, compared with President Johnson's wage-price guidelines of 3.2 per cent.

No industry sources forecasting Big Three refusal to alter contracts before their expiration Sept. 6, 1967, would permit use of their names.

There is considerable pressure on both the UAW and the Big Three.

The automakers are just beginning 1967 model production and all want a big hunk of early buyer sales. A strong union demand always holds the threat of work stoppages.

In addition, a new amendment to the UAW constitution will permit skilled tradesmen to vote separately from production workers on future contracts, and if tradesmen disapprove there will be no contract.

Tradesmen, such as tool and die makers, machinists and millwrights, point out other contracts have gone beyond presidential guidelines, and the proposed airlines strike settlement has increased clamor for reopening.

They compare what they say is their average straight-time rate of $3.87 hourly with a tool-and-die rate of $4.25 in job shops of Detroit Tooling Association and with a Detroit scale of $4.63 for carpenters and $5.20 for electricians. The average hourly wage for all auto industry workers, including the skilled, is $3.22.

Eight Attacked In Puerto Rico Hospital

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) —A nurse's husband walked into an Arecibo hospital last night and assaulted eight persons, seriously injuring three of them. His rampage of stabbing, kicking and punching ended when an off-duty policeman shot him in the arm.

Authorities, who could give no reason for the attack, identified the assailant as Victor Quiles Aviles, 26. His wife is a nurse at the hospital in Arecibo, 40 miles west of San Juan.

Young Sounds Alarm About Drugs Peril

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assemblyman Pearce Young, D-Napa, chairman of the Assembly Criminal Procedure Committee, has called for a state investigation of two easily obtainable drugs which can be mixed into a concoction producing more kick than LSD.

Young revealed Wednesday that the drugs can be purchased in drugstores and super markets without prescription. He declined to identify the products "for fear that misguided young people might experiment with them."

Young called for an investigation by Atty. Gen. Thomas Lynch and asked Lynch to "assist in developing legislation" to control the drugs. He sent samples of the drugs to Lynch's office.

The drugs came to his attention, Young said, when three youths were arrested earlier this month in Napa, flying high on the mixture.

Napa County Dist. Atty. James D. Boitano also declined to identify the drugs. He said, however, that one "is a real old remedy" and the other contains alcohol and chloroform as well as other substances.

"Apparently they give you a terrific kick," Boitano said. "They give you a little kick individually but taken together they send you off into the wild blue yonder."

Young said his committee "will assert every effort toward developing new legislation for the 1967 session" to control the drugs. He also expressed the hope drug distributors would withdraw the products from the shelves "if they are proven to be damaging to young people."

DIAL T FOR TERROR

Mother Hears Son Shot Over Phone

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Robert E. Girard was chatting happily with his mother in Worcester, Mass., about his new job. It was a good one, he thought. Things were going well.

His mother, Mrs. John Johnson, remembered the animation in her son's voice. But her happiness for him became screaming terror when she heard a thump and then her son gasping:

"Mums, I've been shot. Get help."

The 23-year-old Girard was shot as he made his call from a Washington telephone booth Wednesday by a holdup man. Girard had 70 cents in his pockets.

Police today credited luck and Operator 52 for saving the young man's life. The operator came on the line to tell Girard his three minutes were up just after the shooting.

The operator calmed Mrs. Johnson and, having learned what happened, called police and an ambulance. Girard was taken to George Washington Hospital where his chances of surviving a bullet wound in the chest were considered good.

Operator 52 and her supervisor kept the line to Worcester open throughout the half hour or so it took for the ambulance to arrive, take her son to the hospital and receive a doctor's prognosis on Girard's condition.

A spokesman for the Potomac telephone Co. said both women had asked to remain anonymous.

Ten Youths In Second Week At Seal Camp

Enjoying the summer-camp routine of swimming, hiking, cook-outs, sports and crafts are Jamie Giragi, Stephen Kuhl, Steven Novak and Deborah Simmons from San Rafael, Bill Bodine from Strawberry, Adam Buck and Merry Nell Holly from Fairfax, Kerril Knous and Lorna Pippenger from Novato, and Bob Stommel from Point Reyes.

Sponsoring the youths at camp are the Marin Easter Seal Society, Bari Frolich's Junior Cotillion, the Mill Valley Rotary, the Novato Kiwanis Club, United Cerebral Palsy and Muscular Dystrophy Assn.

Herbert Crocker Divorce Granted

Interlocutory decree of divorce was granted Herbert Arthur Crocker, 53, building contractor, from his wife, Lilli, yesterday in Marin Superior Court.

Crocker had charged cruelty. The divorce was uncontested. They wed Feb. 19 and lived at 39 Royal Court, San Rafael.

Busy World Seen By 2016

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — An authority on urban development says that in 50 years the average family may earn $15,000 a year and automobile drivers may have to reserve space on highways.

The American Institute of Planners heard that yesterday from William L. C. Wheaton, director of the Institute of Urban and Regional Development at the University of California.

Wheatton said that with the population increase and a growing competition for recreation space, the nation may even pay people to stay home and read or watch television.

Others may be paid to go to school as a means of keeping them out of the labor market.

Korean Epidemic

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Twenty persons have died this month of a disease suspected to be encephalitis, the Korean Health Ministry announced today.

Maybe Grandpa Really Does Know

WASHINGTON (AP) — The next time grandpa says it's going to rain because his arthritis is bothering him, you might do well to pay some heed.

A government report said today falling atmospheric pressure and rising humidity, conditions which often precede rain, can cause pains and swelling of joints in rheumatoid arthritis.

The report said progress in relating weather to disease has lagged behind advances in other fields of health-related science because "the atmosphere and the human body are highly complex systems and the interactions between the two are often very involved."

BRISK WEDNESDAY BUSINESS

Shoppers flowed through the aisles at San Rafael stores last night, including the J. C. Penney Co., shown here, as merchants first tried their new Wednesday night shopping hours. "It was," said Manager Jack Alvarado of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, "a better night than any Friday's ever been." Some stores will now be open both nights. (Independent-Journal photo)

Cosa Nostran Charged In Truck Fraud Case

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — James Fratianno, once described by police as the West Coast Mafia executioner, was held today on $55,000 bail on Imperial County warrant charging him with criminal conspiracy.

Fratianno, 53, a trucking executive, was taken into custody yesterday as he was about to board a plane at International Airport for a flight to El Centro.

A warrant charging Fratianno and four other persons with felony conspiracy to defraud truckers working on two $5 million sections of Interstate 8 in Imperial County were issued Tuesday.

Fred Recupido, 49, Huntington Beach; Kenneth Bentley, 41, El Centro; Nick Diacogianis, 41, and Frank Bompensiero, 61, were arrested earlier.

Imperial County Dist. Atty. James E. Hamilton said Fratianno and the other four men named in the warrant were subcontractors for Miles and Sons Truck Service of Merced, prime contractors on the project. Miles was named in the warrant as were Fratianno's company and Orange Leasing Co., a trucking firm operated by Recupido.

The five men hauled dirt fill for the new freeway which will connect San Diego and Yuma, Ariz.

Hamilton said the charges involved an arrangement between Fratianno and Recupido and their truck driver employees who, by alleged misrepresentation, were forced to sign purchase contracts for the trucks they drove.

"Drivers, as a result, were fradulently deprived of their rightfully earned minimum wages or were not paid for hours worked," Hamilton said.

He also said that of more than 50 complaining witnesses had caused a federal-state investigation. Many testified that similar fraudulent practices were occurring on other freeway projects in other parts of California.

Police said Fratianno entered the trucking business immediately after his release in 1959 from Folsom Prison, where he served 3½ years on an extortion conviction.

Auto Workers Want Contract Reopening

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers have demanded that the automakers answer by next Monday the union's request for reopening of current contracts to write in increases of at least 50 cents hourly for skilled tradesmen.

Industry souces confirmed the 50-cent figure today. UAW spokesmen would say only that the union is asking "a substantial increase." Skilled tradesmen themselves have talked about 25 per cent or roughly $1 an hour.

Third Trial Ordered In Murder Case

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The California Supreme Court upheld yesterday its decision to order a new trial for two men twice convicted of murdering a young sailor in 1962 in Tulare County.

Ronald H. Polk, 27, and George A. Gregg, 26, first were convicted of robbing and murdering William Frambo, 20, of Norwalk, Tulare County. They were sentenced to death in December, 1962.

In a second trial, ordered by the state Supreme Court because it said the jury was instructed improperly, they again were convicted in August, 1964.

The U.S. Supreme Court had ruled that the use of a confession, when a defendant had not been advised of his right to counsel, was illegal. This decision later was limited, in use in federal courts, to any case started before June 22, 1964.

Young Mother Discovers Adoption Not So Difficult

By PAT PERRY
(Third of four stories)

Mrs. Dennis Moore of San Anselmo, an articulate and intelligent young mother, is not an expert on adoptions, but her opinions are worth hearing, for she's been privileged to be a mother twice — once naturally, once by adoption.

"Adopting a baby is as completely satisfying as having one," she says, "because while going through a pregnancy is a very special kind of an experience, I don't think it is child-related, it's a me-oriented thing.

"The relationship and interaction between child and mother and father and family comes after the child is born, not before."

Mrs. Moore, widely known in Marin and San Francisco for her leadership in YWCA programs, and her husband Dennis, a Crown Zellerbach Corp. market researcher, adopted their seven-month-old daughter Kelly Ann in January.

NERVOUS AT FIRST

Mrs. Moore admits a sense of nervousness when they first considered adoption — "I thought the legalities would be overpowering.

"But it's really a lot simpler than anyone has the faintest idea."

The Moores, who have a 6-year-old son, David, originally specified a girl two to four years old when they were approved as adoptive parents by Marin's state-licensed adoption agency, the Marin County Department of Social Services. They waited for several months, but no suitable girl of that age became available.

"One night we decided to change the order and get a baby. We called the Civic Center on a Tuesday, and went in on the Thursday to see the baby."

And in the inauspicious setting of an office at the Civic Center, the Moores met the baby destined to become their beloved daughter.

"Frankly, there's no sudden overwhelming love," emphasizes Mrs. Moore. "She just looked like somebody else's baby. But neither does your own baby when they show it to you after birth. When you bring the baby home—this is when it all becomes real."

She considers the months of waiting while the prospective parents are investigated to be similar to pregnancy. "You become more aware while you're waiting. You do the same mental things as if you're pregnant, you rearrange the house mentally, you think about baby clothes. You talk. Everybody, but everybody, knew we were going to adopt. I think that you gradually become accustomed to the idea on a very real basis."

HOME VISITS

The series of home study visits that must be made by the agency's social workers was not nerve-wracking, she found, though it's a prospect that admittedly makes many people nervous. "It's really a lot more pleasant than you perhaps expect. They're not trying to catch you."

Mrs. Moore tends to disagree with statistics showing vast numbers of children needing homes with inadequate supplies of would-be parents.

"Statistics must lie. We know many, many people who have gone through independent adoptions because they couldn't get a child. And simply because I know these people I'd never do it myself. There's too much worry, that long waiting period when the natural parents can legally reclaim the child."

(In adoptions conducted by state-licensed agencies the children have been relinquished to the agency by the parents. In independent adoptions the parents' responsibility is not terminated until the adopting couple's petition to adopt is heard and granted by court, and the natural parent may request the return of the child any time prior to the court appearance.)

When they originally requested an older girl, the Moores were quite willing to accept the challenge.

"We were aware of the emotional problems. I feel that any child over two must have had some kind of damaging background, must have had traumatic experiences, to be in such a situation. But I think up to four or five years old you can overcome these problems entirely. The older the child the more difficult it must be."

She encourages anyone considering adoption to seek more information.

"There's plenty of time. Call and talk to the adoption officials.

"It's a very pleasant process."

Oakland Port Would Sponsor Bay Hovercraft

OAKLAND (AP) — The Port of Oakland says it would sponsor a resumption of Hovercraft service, but would not contribute money and would seek repayment for any services.

The Hovercraft service on San Francisco Bay was quietly ended last week.

Spokesmen for the Port of Oakland and SFO Helicopter Airlines —which operated the Hovercraft—said yesterday the service cost about $95.50 in federal, port and private funds for each passenger.

The federal government was interested in the Hovercraft as a possible solution for interurban transit problems.

SFO said the high costs resulted from inadequate terminal facilities in San Francisco and poor routes. Choppy water was blamed for the cancellation of many afternoon runs.

Charles Banks, SFO vice president, said he hopes to see 90-passenger Hovercraft carrying commuters and other travelers in regular bay runs from Marin County and Oakland to San Francisco and back.

The Thief Who Answered An Ad

A thief who may have found the loot he wanted through the classified advertising pages took a $349 tape recorder from the home of Heidi J. Lewis at 345 The Alameda, San Anselmo, Tuesday, police reported.

Mrs. Lewis told officers she had advertised the recorder for sale in the classified ads and a man came to see it Monday. He said he wanted to buy, she said, and she told him to return the next evening, since she would not be home during the day.

The tape recorder was gone when she returned and the prospective buyer never showed. She said she had left the front door unlocked.

Teens Hurt In Novato Accident

Two Denver teen-agers were slightly injured in a two-car collision on Highway 101 at Grant Avenue, Novato, at 9:40 p.m. Tuesday.

Treated in Novato Hospital for cuts and bruises on shoulder and knee were Allan Nelson, 14, and his sister Dolores, 16. They were passengers in a car driven by their mother, Alice B. Nelson, 39.

Officer J. H. Kendricks of the California Highway Patrol reported the northbound Nelson car struck a car, east bound on Grant Avenue, driven by Robert A. Slifka, 27, of 699 Tamalpais Avenue, Novato.

Thieves Steal A Tire, Miss Cash

Thieves broke into two service stations in Larkspur and Corte Madera yesterday, but overlooked $150 cash in one station and took only a tire from the other, police reported.

Officer Charles Brobeck of Corte Madera said the thieves broke the front window of a Texaco station at Fifer and Nellen avenues, ransacked the office, but missed $150 in a money bag.

Larkspur police heard a window break in the Standard Station at 301 Sitr Francis Drake Boulevard at 2:30 a.m. When they arrived, the building had been ransacked but the only item missing was a tire.

Mill Valley Requests 18-Acre Annexation

The City of Mill Valley yesterday asked Local Agency Formation Commission approval of an 18-acre annexation on the east side of the city.

The acreage forms a 200-foot-wide corridor around the west and east sides of the Edna Maguire School property. It was left out of an earlier annexation to prevent creation of an island of unincorporated territory within the city.

Under new legislation on annexations, the LAFC can waive the ban on unincorporated islands.

The proposed annexation includes 10 house lots on the east side of Vasco and Azalea drives. Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows said he did not know whether all these lots were developed. If they are, it might mean there are more than 12 registered voters in the area, requiring an election on the annexation.

Earliest date for a commission hearing on the proposal is Oct. 6, Barrows said.

Oakland Lawyer Files Suit For False Arrest

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Oakland attorney Benjamin A. Marlowe yesterday sought $17 million damages in a suit against Alameda Dist. Atty. J. Frank Coakley charging false arrest and malicious prosecution.

Marlowe, who was found innocent last month of grand theft charges of $10,000 from Margaret Buerk, a client, charged Coakley and others conspired to present prejudiced testimony in order to get an indictment against him.

IN COMBAT ZONE—Davidina Pagano of San Anselmo, Red Cross aide in South Viet Nam, talks with three Marines at a Red Cross recreation center in Da Nang. She has spent a year working in Red Cross centers which meet the welfare and recreational fields in combat areas of Viet Nam.

San Anselman Serves With Saigan Red Cross

To most Marin County residents, the fighting front in Viet Nam seems far away but to Davidina M. Pagano, daughter of Mrs. Nilda Pagano, 131 The Alameda, San Anselmo, the roar of bombs and tattering of guns is part of her work.

As an aide close to the front lines of battle, Miss Pagano works at Red Cross posts in the Saigon area where soldiers relax from the pressure of combat with a soft drink, a game of cards, or just plain talk.

Miss Pagano also "goes on the road," in a Marine Corps jeep taking the Red Cross program to men who cannot get away from the battle areas. "During such a visit," Mrs. William R. Eastman, chairman of the Marin County Chapter of the Red Cross, explained, "Davidina leads hour-long programs at which servicemen participate in quizzes, stunts, games, discussions, amateur dramatics, and song fests."

Her year-long tour of duty in the Viet Nam area will conclude in October when she will return to Marin. Following her initial Red Cross training last September in Washington, D.C. Miss Pagano was assigned to a Red Cross unit in Korea. Early this year, she was transferred to South Viet Nam.

According to Mrs. Eastman the Red Cross has sponsored the recreation programs in which Miss Pagano is involved at the request of the Department of Defense and local military officials in Viet Nam.

Aides who will replace Miss Pagano and others, will receive training in Washington, D.C. from Oct. 24 to Nov. 4 after which they will be assigned to posts in Viet Nam where an estimated 200 American Red Cross aides are already serving.

What is an aides reward for her work in the war effort? Benefits, said Mrs. Eastman, include travel and living expenses while overseas, leave, group health and life insurance and Social Security, "as well as a good salary."

Unexplained Change In Orbiter's Orbit

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Scientists reported unexplained changes in Lunar Orbiter's path around the moon prior to today's photographic assignment.

The highest point in the orbit has dropped from 1,158 to 1,150 miles, while the low point has risen gradually from 117 miles to 126.

"All we can say pending detailed studies is that something is influencing the orbit we can't explain," scientist Edmund Brummer of the National Aeronautics and Space Administra-

Public Attitudes Handicap Police

Problems which public apathy creates for police officers were outlined to members of the San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce Tuesday by Sheriff's Deputy Wade R. Powell.

Powell said police today are faced with two handicaps caused by public opinion.

The first, he said, is the "I don't want to get involved" attitude, which leads people to ignore situations in which they could help officers. The second is outright hostility toward policemen.

He spoke at a dinner meeting. A special guest was Jerry Bowman, executive vice president of the state junior chamber.

HUB STREET WOES DEBATED ON AIR

San Anselmo Street Widening Plans, Business Impact Debated By Panel

"The basic problem in San Anselmo is how to detour through-traffic around the San Anselmo business center and at the same time add vigor to that center," Daniel H. Goltz, architect and San Anselmo resident, stated this morning on the Radio KTIM "Marin Sounding Board."

Discussing the disputed widening of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard along with Goltz were San Anselmo Vice-Mayor Arthur W. Smith, Public Works Director Charles R. Leitzell, and James Kell, principal traffic engineer for Traffic Research Corp. of San Francisco.

The city plans to widen the boulevard into four lanes from Tunstead Avenue to the Ross line, and to convert San Anselmo Avenue into a one-way street, going northbound from Ross Avenue to the Hub intersection and southbound from Ross Avenue to Bolinas Avenue.

Kell said widening the boulevard would help move through-traffic and would give local traffic easier access to downtown.

Smith termed it "a project of vital concern to city residents," but said "only one San Anselmo merchant is in favor of the project."

Some 60 merchants attended a meeting for the project last month and expressed opposition because they feared a loss of business.

Kell, however, said he was convinced business will not suffer. A similar undertaking in Louisville, Ky., he said, affected business adversely for the first month or two, but it then increased beyond its earlier level.

Leitzell noted that the project would cost an estimated $250,000 with $208,000 derived from state gasoline taxes, and the City of San Anselmo providing only $42,000 for the project.

The widening, said Kell, could be completed with removal of only a few trees lining the boulevard. He said signals would have to be installed at Tunstead and Ross Avenues with left turns on Winship Avenue prohibited.

Goltz took issue, contending the signals and the widening itself would cause delays and bottlenecks.

"The purpose of widening Drake will be defeated by the signals at the intersections. Our present problems would be solved but new ones would be created," he said.

Replying to a listener's query on hopes of a master plan for the city, Goltz insisted there is time to design a total master plan for roadways around San Anselmo.

"I think the street would change the whole picture of San Anselmo," he said.

To another listener who was distressed over the "Hub intersection mess," Leitzell said the city lost two fire hydrants in minor accidents there in one week, and agreed the intersection will need improvement eventually. Kell agreed.

Leitzell concluded that the Drake Boulevard project would prepare for future expansion of the boulevard at Greenbrae.

"Eventually Drake Boulevard must be four-lanes all the way through," he said.

The program, directed by Kitty Oppenheimer, will be replayed from a recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

Dixie School Approves Double Grading Cards

Trustees of Dixie School District last night approved a double grading report card for the new school year in grades one through six.

The new cards, used on a trial basis at Bernard Hoffman School last year, use grades A through F to show achievement and a second grading to show effort.

Under the new system, parents will not be required to return the cards to the school, only the separate sheet with comments from the teacher.

Trustees last night asked that the San Rafael Board of Education assist in the naming of a joint finance committee to study the financial picture for Dixie and San Rafael Districts for the next three years, with and without unification.

Unification was voted down June 7, passing in Dixie but failing in the San Rafael district.

The Dixie School District board last night also:

1. Asked Supt. Dennie B. Willis to make an agreement with the Lucas Valley Homeowners Assn. for use of the community building as a classroom pending completion of the Dixie School addition.

2. Authorized $1,000 in library shelving for Bernard Hoffman and Vallecito schools and $1,813 for darkening drapes at Dixie and Vallecito Schools.

3. Accepted resignations of Mrs. Karen Yee Crooks, sixth grade teacher at Lucas Valley School and Mrs. Marilyn Schultz Weiss, primary teacher at Santa Margarita School.

5. Granted leave of absence to Mogens Kristensen, sixth grade teacher at Don Timoteo School, so he can accept a temporary position with the elementary science institute in Cambridge, Mass.

Nighttime Brawl Fighters Jailed

Three San Rafael men were booked into Marin County Jail yesterday on charges of disturbing the peace following a midnight fight in the parking lot of Bermuda Palms Motel.

They were John M. Taylor, 26, and Richard J. Brittain, 22, of 1825 Second Street, and Issac A. Sanchez of 16 Meadow Avenue.

Brittain and Sanchez, who faced additional charges of being drunk, were treated at Marin General Hospital for cuts and bruises, police said.

Permanent U.S. Residence Denied To Topless Queen

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Yvonne D'Angers, topless Iranian night club entertainer, has been denied permanent residence in the United States.

Monroe Kroll, an immigration service officer, made the decision yesterday after hearings at which Yvonne's first husband, Howard Stanley Ettlinger of New York, testified the couple was fraudulently married to obtain citizenship for the entertainer, now 22 years old.

Asked what she thought of the hearings, she said, "Not much, you'd think I was Al Capone or something."

Using the name Mahviz Danesh Farous Ettinger, she was enrolled as an Iranian architecture student at the University of California, Berkeley, before she started her night club act.

Policeman Arrested On Drunk Suspicion

Sgt. John Joseph Higgins, 31, of Sausalito police was arrested Tuesday night by California Highway Patrol and booked in county jail for investigation of being drunk in or about a motor vehicle.

Sergeant Higgins, of 87 Bolinas Road, San Anselmo, was released on $110 bail. He is scheduled for appearance in Marin Municipal Court at 1:30 p.m. Friday.

Lightfingered Thief

Someone took a candelabra valued at $82.50 from the front of Sundawn Lighting at 5420 Redwood Highway, Novato, Ronald John Waskle of 1145 Elm Street, Novato, reported Tuesday to police. The theft occurred between 6 p.m. Monday and yesterday morning, he said.

San Francisco Nurses Dicker With Officials

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — About 900 nurses at three public hospitals here planned to lay wage increase demands before city officials today, but the threat of a walkout appeared unlikely.

Although exact figures were not made public, it was believed the nurses would ask for a top scale of almost $600 a month. Nurses at private hospitals won a $60 monthly increase earlier this month after threatening mass resignations.

A spokesman for the California Nurses Assn., which represents the civil service nurses, said a walkout was unlikely in next few days.

Eight nurses left their jobs at Santa Cruz General Hospital while 33 others rescinded their resignations and accepted a one-month moratorium suggested by the county board of supervisors.

San Rafael Pianist Presents Recital

Joan Houston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Houston, 63 Billou Street, San Rafael, presented a piano recital at the Amelia Faustini Piano Studio, 309 Mission Avenue, last Friday.

WAC Officer Awarded Merit Legion

Lt. Col. Helen H. Corthay of 160 Santa Rosa Avenue, Sausalito, has been awarded the Army's Legion of Merit decoration upon her retirement at Fort Baker.

The decoration, one of the highest noncombatant awards given to armed forces personnel, was given to Colonel Corthay for her "exceptionally meritorious service." She had served as information officer at Sixth Region Headquarters, Army Air Defense Command, Fort Baker, since November, 1964.

A native of Nebraska and a graduate of Duchesne College, Omaha, Neb., Colonel Corthay joined the Women's Army Corps in July, 1942.

Prior to her assignment at Fort Baker, she served as staff officer for Armed Forces de- North Africa and Pakistan. She also had served as WAC staff adviser to the Chemical Corps, Sixth Army and First Infantry Division in Bavaria.

the truth of the matter is...

*University of California report, 1965

The majority of the redwoods throughout the redwood region are comparatively young stands ... no older than stands of other types of trees on the west coast. Healthy, young commercial forests of redwoods guarantee redwoods forever. Lyle Klubben, U. S. Forest Service, California Region, has said, "We are constantly hearing about despoilment of the redwoods, yet there are more redwoods standing today than ever before in our history..."

Redwoods are already protected in 116,000 acres of state parks!

Some 116,000 acres of government-owned redwood parklands already stretch throughout the redwood region, along with the 6,000 acres of outstanding groves being held by private owners until they can be acquired as parklands. There are, in fact, more than enough large, park-type redwoods in state parks now to make a solid row from San Francisco to Washington, D. C.

The forest products industry is growing and vital

... increasing the income of the area and providing recreation. This healthy industry supports at least 70 per cent of the redwood region's economy. Irresponsible park proposals would slash millions of dollars off California's tax rolls needlessly and raise your share of the taxes still more. They would wipe out $13,000,000 a year in payrolls and would shut off the millions of investment dollars going into future forest products industry job-creating programs now underway.

Get the Facts— See for Yourself

Drive through the redwood region. See for yourself the more than 122,000 acres of park-type redwoods now being preserved, both in state parks and private lands. Visit a redwood demonstration forest. Enjoy the 365,000 acres of taxpaying, privately-owned recreation lands open to all the public for all types of outdoor activity, such as hunting, fishing, hiking and picnicking.

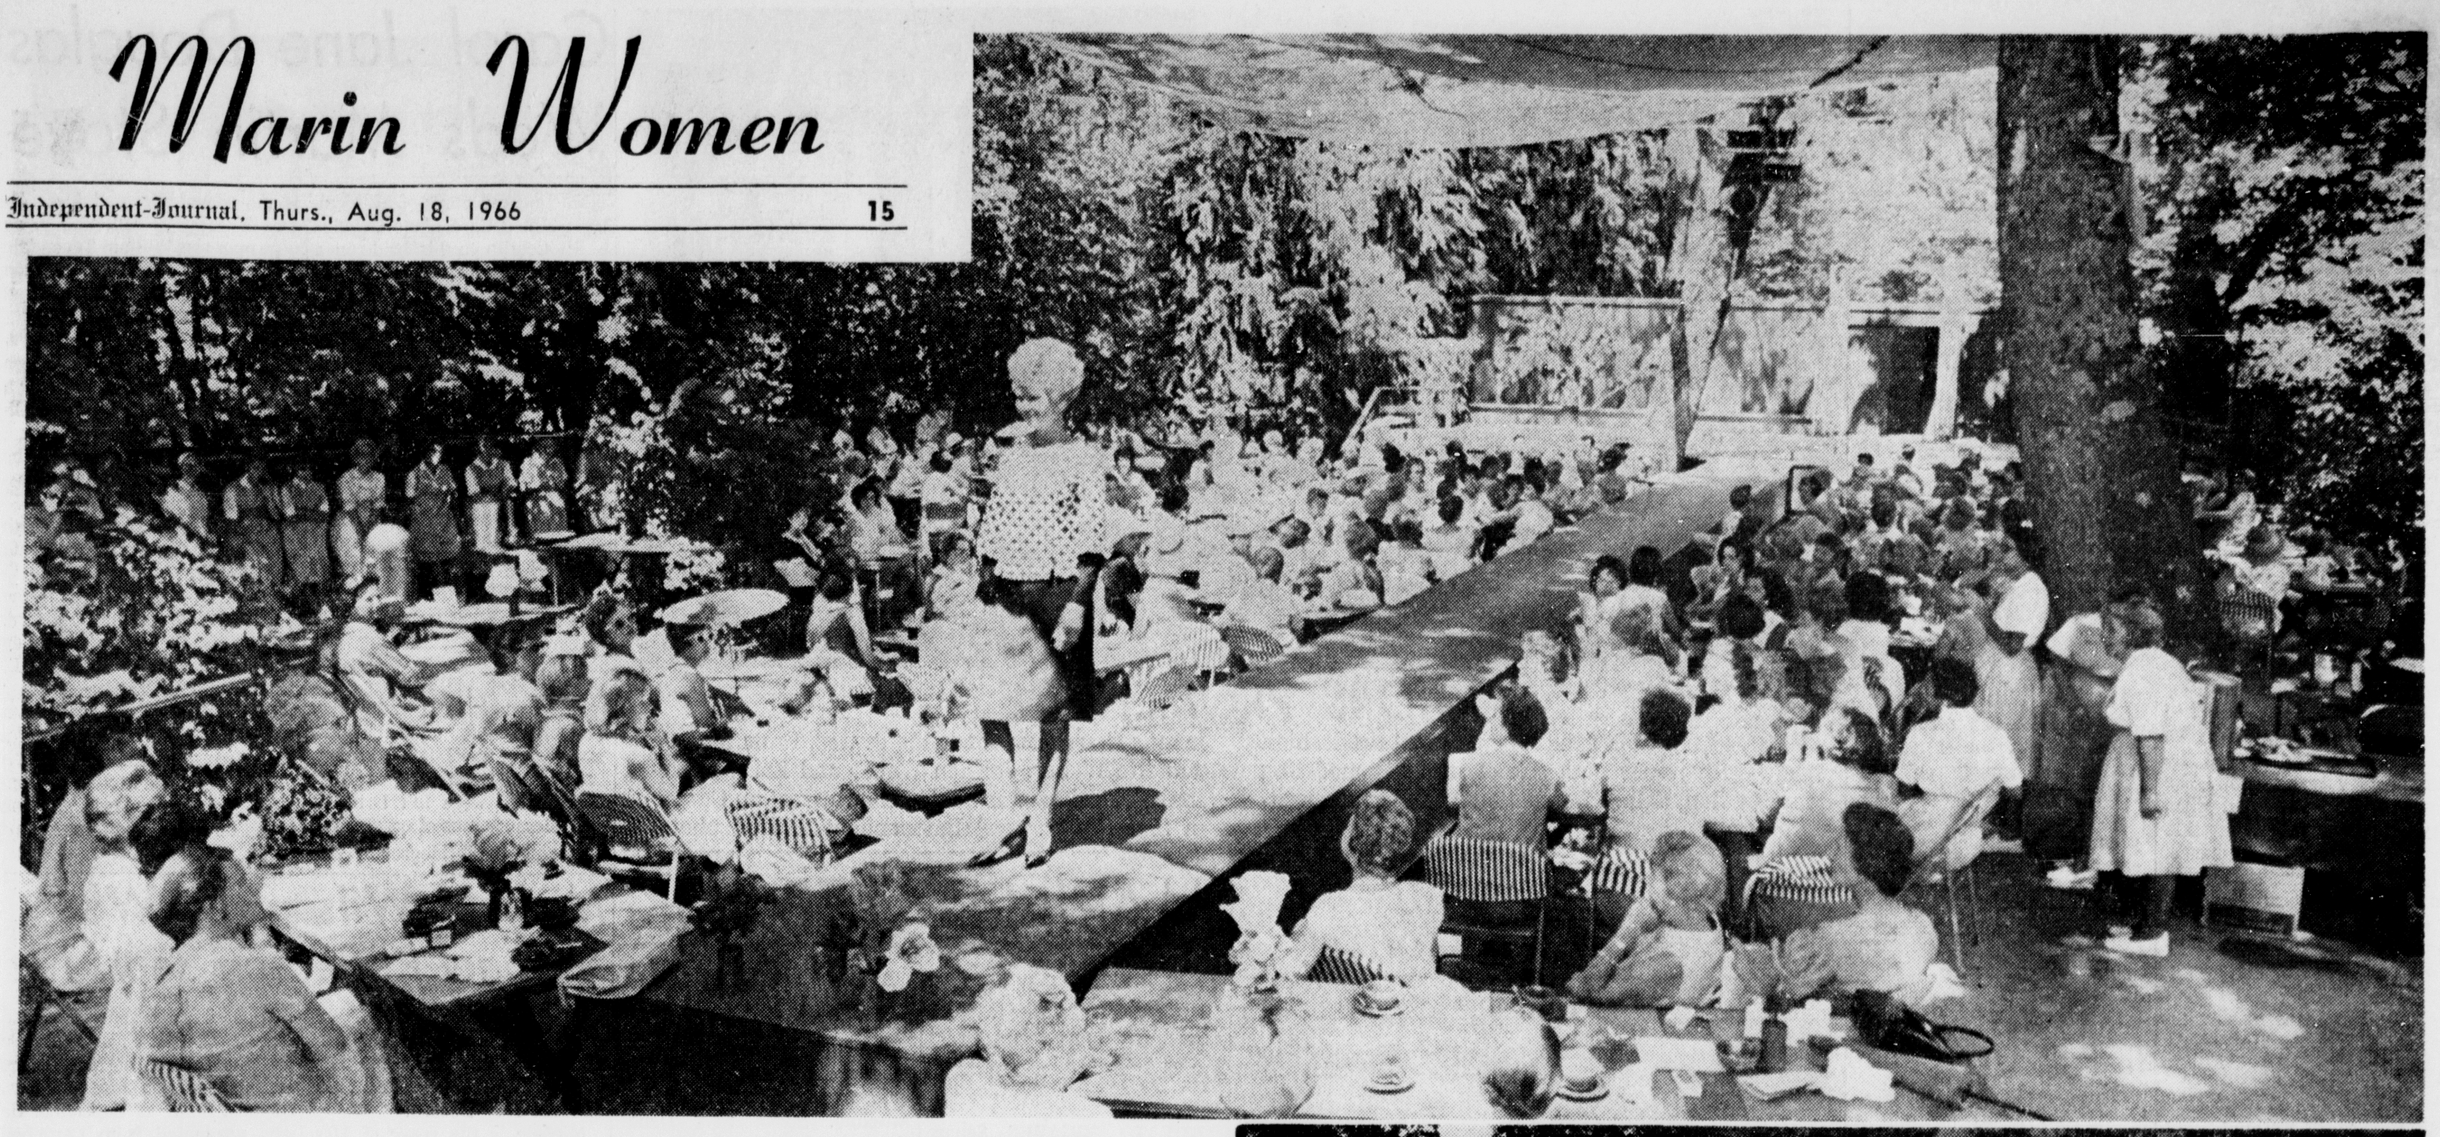
Marin Women



IT WAS A PREFECT day for al fresco luncheon and fashions yesterday as six groups of the Marin County volunteer hospital services joined the Northgate Group in sponsoring the fifth of seven such events scheduled at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross. Mrs. Julio de Beaubien of Marin General Hospital Volunteers displayed a black and white medieval patterned blouson over black wool dress.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

P-TA And Little League Circuit Leaves Housewife Office-Hungry

DEAR HELEN:

I'm married, have three children, all school age. My mother and I disagree on a subject my husband says I must decide for myself. The question: Should I go back to work?

My mother says all working wives are tired, cross; poor wives and mothers; and bucking for a divorce. I say pure housewives tend to be "little homemakers" who have about as far horizons as a "weevil in an oatmeal box." Having gone the PTA and Little League circuit for 10 years, I know. The things women talk about when they get together make my skin crawl: Children, husbands, neighbors and recipes, in that order, with how hard they work to scrub the kitchen thrown in for good measure.

What do you think about working wives? I might add I don't need the money as much as a sense of accomplishment.—A. C.

DEAR A:

I think there's too much generalization about working wives vs. "little homemakers." All of the former aren't tired and cranky, BUT they can have just as limited horizons as "pure housewives" whose horizons are limited only by their outreach, not their occupation.

However, if a woman gets no sense of accomplishment from her work at home and finds everyone in her orbit "dull," she'll soon discover life on the outside is just as boring: She's carrying a bucket of graywash.

It's the person doing it, who makes the job interesting. Rev up your enthusiasm, find that job, and learn to enjoy both your lives.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

When a 21-year-old woman chases a 16-year-old boy and deliberately gets involved with him to the point where he is almost not responsible, losing out on school work, mooning about getting married, etc., can she be held for "contributing to the delinquency of a minor?" She was 20 when they met.

True, she is the one who is expecting the baby, but she's not the sweet little wronged innocent. Our son had never gone with girls before. He is absolutely crushed by this.

She won't marry him (even if we and the law would allow it) but she demands $2,000 or she'll make a big scandal, she says. Our son still insists she can do no wrong. The case for the unwed father is often unstated, Helen. How does he face this—MRS. X.

DEAR MRS. X.

He faces it with a lawyer, hopefully with his eyes opened.

And you're so right the unwed mother isn't always the only sufferer; sometimes she asks for it. A boy would have to run fast, for example, to elude "Spring Love," who writes:

Dear Helen: I'm not pregnant yet, but it may come to that if I can't get him any other way. He is home from college and has dated me several times, but I'm just another girl to him. I simply can't get him off my mind. I know I love him, and if getting pregnant will help, I'll do it!"

. . . It takes two for trouble, and if the girl is willing, the boy often can't think straight for both of them. Later he may feel just as miserable and guilty as she does—though, of course, she shows it more. Yes, Mrs. X., unwed fathers don't get off scot-free either.—H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen Help You. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

History Goes To The Head In Fall Styles

A Guide To Fall Hosiery Shades

Carol Jane Douglas Weds Martin Stoye

Martin Paul Stoye of Mill Valley claimed Carol Jane Douglas of El Cerrito as his bride in a 7:30 p.m. ceremony yesterday at the Mill Valley Community Church, where the bride's parents had been married.

Dr. Charles Campbell officiated at the single ring nuptial rites.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Page Douglas, was given in marriage by her father wearing a floor length Empire style gown of honey satin. Her full length veil of Indian embroidered lace had been worn by her mother and grandmother.

Maid of honor was Harleen Wong of Honolulu, and her cousin, Marilyn Healy of Mill Valley was bridesmaid. Junior bridesmaids were Carol Jane's sisters, Laurie and Ellen Douglas of El Cerrito. All wore full length sleeveless sheaths of coral satin.

Serving the bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred A. Stoye of Mill Valley, as best man was William Tevendale of Petaluma. Steven Pendleton of Tamalpais Valley showed guests to their seats.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the parish hall, and the couple left for a wedding trip to Southern California. They will live in Sonoma, where the bride will teach at the Prestwood School and her husband in the high school.

A graduate of El Cerrito High School and San Francisco State College with a major in education, the new Mrs. Stoye is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Douglas of Berkeley and Mr. and Mrs. Granville L. Beedle of Mill Valley.

Martin was graduateda from Tamalpais High School and San Francisco State College with honors. He is the brother of Donald Stoye of San Jose and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. August Stoye of Mill Valley.

Michele Wilson To Wed Michael R. Beeson Sept. 18

Mr. and Mrs. Denver K. Wilson Jr. of Novato are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Michele Faye, to Michael Ray Beeson.

Michele is the sister of Mrs. Richard Zell and Darcell Wilson of Novato. She was graduated from Novato High School and attended Marinello School of Beauty. She was formerly a member of the Rainbow For Girls. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Denver K. Wilson of Novato and Mr. and Mrs. R. G. McKenna of San Francisco.

Michael is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Beeson of San Jose and the brother of Mrs. Ernie Stubbings of San Jose and Mrs. Richard Buller of Cupertino. He was graduated from Campbell High School and attended San Jose Junior College. He is a member of the Parachute Club of America and is employed with San Ramon Engineers.

The couple plan to live in San Jose following their wedding on Sept. 18.

Marin Guests At Reception Honor Soprano Jane Marsh

By MOLLY MARIN

Many Marin people were among the 400 invited guests who gathered to honor Mill Valley soprano Jane Marsh Tuesday afternoon at a champagne reception hosted by the Greater San Francisco Chamber of Commerce. It was held in the Pacific Heights home of former Marinite Mrs. Edwin L. Curry Jr. with Mayor and Mrs. John F. Shelley as top representatives of the city. Coming to the reception directly from the airport with Jane, who looked radiant, were her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Earle Marsh of Mill Valley.

NATURALLY Mill Valley was well represented, among those attending being Dr. Albert White, Mill Valley mayor, and Mrs. White; the Robert L. Schultzes, the Lyman Emersons and daughter, Vicky; Mrs. Arne Anderson and the Max Reseks—Mme. Resek was Jane's first vocal teacher.

OTHER Marinites present were Mrs. Carl Riznik, first vice president of the Marin Music Chest, and Mrs. (Kitty) Oppenheimer, its executive secretary; the Joseph Curatilos—Gwen, a soprano, is the only Marin member of the San Francisco Opera Co.—and soprano Corinne Swall, who has been singing leading roles at Melodyland in Oakland; the Andrew Dewings—she is the noted concert pianist Janet Graham—and Verna Osborne, a leader in Bay Area music circles.

THE PAUL C. CONDITS of San Anselmo honored their son and new daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brainard Condit, at a cocktail party and buffet last night at their home. The couple exchanged vows Aug. 6 at March Air Force Base chapel, when her parents, Col. and Mrs. Arnold R. Hull, and her brother, Robert, flew to California from their home in Wiesbaden, Germany to attend. The bride is the former Carol Ann Hull. The couple will return to Ann Arbor, where Paul is a teaching assistant in the graduate school of chemistry at University of Michigan and Carol is employed with the university medical library.

VISITORS from Italy are spending the summer with Dr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Wynn Jr. of Belvedere. Mrs. Wynn, herself a native of Italy, invited her sister, Mirella Veniziano, and her brother Guido Veniziano for the summer. Guido, 19, is studying architecture in Rome. During the summer, he has been spending a good deal of time at the Tiburon Peninsula Club, playing tennis and swimming, and making friends despite rather limited command of English. The Wynns have taken their visitors on trips to Carmel, Monterey and Lake Tahoe. Later in the summer they will visit Southern California and see Disneyland. Tom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Wynn are coming from their home in Dallas, Tex. to meet the guests from Rome and will stay in Belvedere.

MRS. E. M. SHELTON of Belvedere has just received news of the arrival of a new grandchild. The baby boy was born Aug. 15 in Urbana, Ill. Parents are Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Foster. Mrs. Foster is the former Ann Shelton, and grew up in Mill Valley. The Foster's first child will be named Bruce Frederick. He is also the grandson of Frank Foster of Portland, Ore.

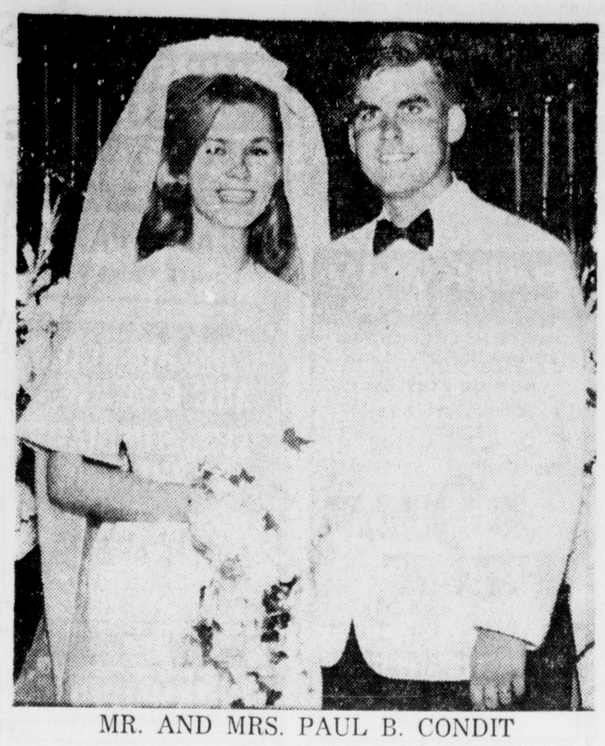
Carol Hull Bride Of Paul B. Condit



MR. AND MRS. PAUL B. CONDIT

Carol Ann Hull became the bride of Paul Brainard Condit of San Anselmo at Aug. 6 nuptials at March Air Force Base chapel. The Rev. Bliss Bellinger of San Rafael officiating with the chaplain at the base.

Col. Arnold R. Hull gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of satin and embroidered silk organza. Virginia Trimble of Corona was the sole attendant, wearing a white eyelet over satin skirt with rose silk shantung bodice.

Best man was Mark Boero of San Anselmo, and the ushers were Richard Chrisman of San Marino, Richard Condit of San Anselmo, the brother of the bridegroom, and Robert Hull of Wiesbaden, Germany, the brother of the bride.

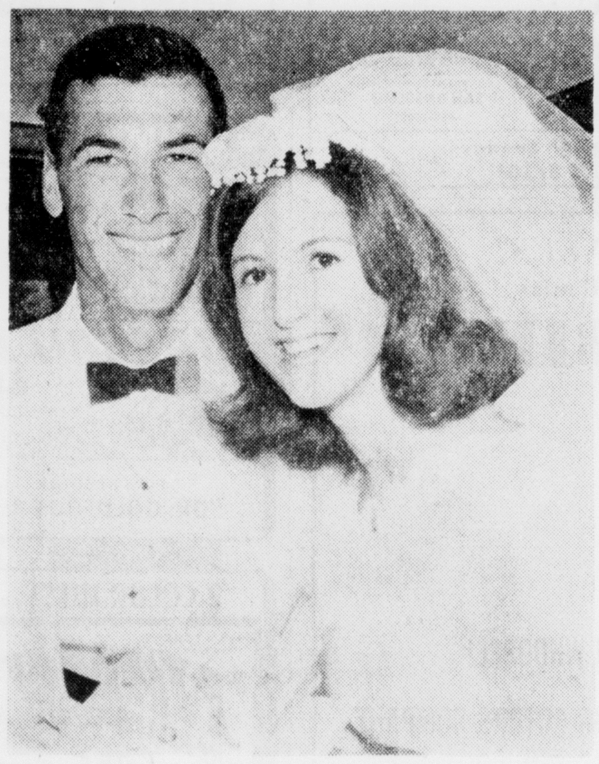
After the ceremony a reception was given at the Officers' Club at the base.

The couple will live in Ann Arbor, Mich. following their wedding trip to Carmel.

The bride, who is the daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Hull of Wiesbaden, Germany, was graduated from high school in Riverside and is employed at the Medical Library at University of Michigan.

Paul is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Condit of San Anselmo. A graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School, he received a degree from the University of California in 1965 and is a teaching assistant in the graduate school of chemistry at University of Michigan.

Marin Women



MR. AND MRS. DONALD VINCENT VACHINI will reside in San Rafael following their wedding at Our Lady of Loretto Church in Novato Saturday. Mrs. Vachini is the former Patricia Anne Baseheart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Baseheart of Novato. (Russ Booth photo)

Carpenters Group Names New Officers

Mrs. Kelvin Hammock has been installed as new president for the Women's Auxiliary Local 495 of the Marin Carpenters. Mrs. Norman Campbell was the installing officer.

Other new officers are Mesdames Vernon Gerbracht, vice president; Robert Neville, secretary; Louis Borges, treasurer; Henry Zachow, conductor; Willard Scoville, warden; Edwin Ellingson, Albert Long, Clarence Krummes, trustees; Beth Beckius, chaplain; Campbell, historian and James Adrain, Mill Valley.

Mrs. Hans J. Regal is the retiring president.

Blazers Set Off Splash Of Color

The blazer set off a whole spash of color in men's wear. If a man wears a solid color sports jacket, why shouldn't he bring pattern to the other half of his outfit, his slacks? Gentlemen's Quarterly reports that the campus set and others now are wearing patterned slacks. These are seen in blanket plaids and tartans, neat glen plaids and houndstooth checks.

Pattern Standard In Hosiery Field

Pattern's become standard in the hosiery field, and now it looks as if shimmer will too. Belle-Sharmeer for fall is featuring silver stockings with a glittering spray of embroidery gracing the side of the knees. More glitter comes in stockings all over silver or gold, sparkled by means of luxury woven in.

Mill Valley Club Officers Active

The summer continues active for some officers of the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley.

Attending a President's Institute and Publicity Clinic to be sponsored on Aug. 23 by the Golden Gate District of the California Federation of Women's Clubs will be president Mrs. Kenyon Spalding, first vice president Mrs. Walter Long and publicity chairman Mrs. Alan Kappelman.

Mrs. Spalding announces that Mrs. Gerhardt Von Vonin will be co-chairman of the tea committee for the coming year with Mrs. Fitz William Guerin, and Mrs. Anna Sheridan will replace Mrs. Gerhard Becker, who served many years as community services chairman.

Song Writers Can't Read Note Of Music

By GARY ARTOUX

One thing about modern music—you don't need to read a note of it to compose a tune.

This axiom proved true for two Marin County artists who broke into one of the world's largest and most glamorous businesses when their new song, "Who Would Remember," was released throughout the country under Warner Brothers and Capitol Records labels.

David J. Belrose, owner of Belrose Studio Theater, San Rafael, wrote the lyrics, and Donald R. Deane, a counselor at Marin Juvenile Hall, composed the musical score.

The song is included in an album sung by the King Sisters titled "The New Sounds of the Fabulous King Sisters" and is also out on a 45-rpm. Capitol recording under its own name, sung by Elli Saint-James.

Neither composer reads music. Carole Castro, a Marin pianist, turned the notes Belrose and Deane composed into writing as they worked.

The two have been writing songs for three years, ever since they ad-libbed some tunes on the piano one night after rehearsal at the Belrose Theater.

Belrose said they have now composed some 200 songs, but have submitted only eight to a publisher. "Who Would Remember" is their first sale.

Belrose said the recording representative who listened to their song told them he could not get the tune out of his mind and took the song home to play for his family—the King family singers.

The song is described as a tone poem on the back of the King Sisters' album, where it is suggested that album listeners "give a quiet listen to 'Who Would Remember.'"

Publication of the song landed an executive writers contract with Beechwood Music Corp., a subsidiary of Capitol Records, for the Marin pair.

Success, however, has not affected Belrose and Deane. "We are still learning our craft," Belrose said. "Our ignorance is profound and our willingness to learn is an insatiable appetite."

Nevada Checks Rumor Of Casino-Mob Links

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UPI) —The Nevada Gaming Commission, which rides herd on the state's gambling industry, has opened a new phase in its investigation of alleged links between some casinos and the underworld.

The commission began a series of closed door hearings in Las Vegas last week to hear testimony on reports that millions of dollars were being siphoned from casino profits into the pockets of big-time hoodlums.

However, it was announced after a session here yesterday that the investigation has been broadened to include charges that underworld figures have secretly infiltrated stockholder ranks.

Commission Chairman Milton Keefer said members "have not reached any conclusions yet" on reports three underworld characters have hidden interests in the plush Caesar's Palace, a $25 million casino-hotel that opened last week on the Las Vegas Strip.

Keefer said the coomission would hear testimony today from representatives of casinos at Lake Tahoe and Sparks and would return to Las Vegas for further sessions next week.

Four officials of Caesars Palace, including President Nathan Jacobson, testified before the commission yesterday.

Jacobson denied reports in a Chicago newspaper that Moe Giancana of Chicago, Gerardo (Jerry) Catena of New York and Ray Patriarca of Rhode Island each hold 10 per cent interest in the casino.

Sandy Smith, a Chicago crime reporter, also testified before the commission in Las Vegas that $6 million a year was being "skimmed off" casino profits and siphoned into the underworld.

Casino representatives categorically denied any knowledge of "skimming," a term used to denote money held out from the total winnings reported for taxation.

New Director Named To Commerce Board

Sausalito Chamber of Commerce appointed Victor Hecht Tuesday to the board of directors to replace Gary Hodson, who resigned last month because of business pressures.

The chamber endorsed, in principle, use of the former Purity Store on Bridgeway as a civic art center, and agreed to study the proposal.

LBJ's Junket Non-Political, Sort Of

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's quickie sortie into the Northeast this weekend is billed as nonpolitical, but he is expected to do what he can to promote several freshman Democratic House members to sophomore status.

The trip also could have impact on governorship and senatorial contests.

The whirlwind journey beginning tomorrow will take the President into New York state, Rhode Island, Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine.

He and Prime Minister Lester Pearson of Canada will meet Sunday to discuss international questions.

Among these, Pearson told a news conference yesterday in Ottawa, presumably will be Viet Nam. "I suspect that the war might come up," the prime minister said, adding that details of the meeting are incomplete.

The scene of this meeting will be Roosevelt Campobello International Park on Campobello Island, New Brunswick, Canada. The park was established by the United States and Canada in honor of Franklin D. Roosevelt, who had a summer home there.

The President's itinerary, as pieced together from official announcements here and word from spots he will visit:

FRIDAY

Buffalo, N.Y.—Among other things, he will board a Coast Guard cutter and inspect efforts to clear pollution from Lake Erie.

Syracuse, N.Y.—Details of visit not announced but it is expected to include a public speech of some kind.

Ellenville, N.Y.—In this Catskills Mountain town Johnson will dedicate a community hospital. The traveling White House will stay overnight here.

SATURDAY

Kingston, R.I.—Johnson will make a major speech and receive an honorary doctorate of laws at the University of Rhode Island. The university is holding a special convocation. It appears to have been hurriedly arranged, because university President Francis Horn is flying back to it from a vacation in the Balkans.

Burlington, Vt., Manchester, N.H., Brunswick and Lewiston, Maine — All these communities expect presidential stops. At night Johnson is expected to board the USS Northhampton, his floating command post, and cruise to Campbello.

SUNDAY

Campobello—Conference with Pearson. Departure for Washington from Dow Air Force Base, Bangor, Maine.

Some examples of the kind of political contests going on along the President's path:

In New York, he will be appearing in the home districts of three freshman Democrats who upset Republicans in 1964. Syracuse is in Rep. J. Michael Hanley's 34th District; at Buffalo Johnson could help Rep. Richard D. McCarthy, while Ellenville is the hometown of Rep. Joseph Y. Resnick.

In Rhode Island, Democratic Sen. Claiborne Pell is up for reelection. In an effort to beat Republican Gov. John H. Chafee, Democrats are putting up Mayor Horace Hobbs of Warwick.

In Maine, Republican Gov. John H. Reed is seeking re-election. Democrats have nominated Kneneth M. Curtis, secretary of state, who is 35.

School Proposals

Proposals for a new school in the Mill Valley district to serve sixth through eighth grades were presented Tuesday night to the Mill Valley Lions Club by district trustee Joyce Gross.

Arraignment In Pizza Parlor Burglary Case

Thomas G. Farmer, 34, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court Tuesday on a felony charge of burglary of Shakey's Pizza Parlor, 4150 Redwood Highway, San Rafael, and was to enter plea this afternoon.

Farmer, from Oklahoma, was arrested by San Rafael police who said they found him crouching under a beer bar inside the building early Saturday. He was placed in county jail in lieu of $5,500 bail and with a hold from the U.S. marshal's office.

Tax Exemption To Be Considered

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The California Supreme Court agreed yesterday to consider whether a community theater should be tax exempt.

The Stockton City Theater lost a case in San Joaquin County Superior Court in which it sued the Board of Supervisors to recover $596 in taxes.

The superior court held the theater was not tax-free since it was not a charitable or religious organization.

Some 25,000 acres at Cape Kennedy have been set aside as a national wildlife refuge.

NAPALM PICKETS BEATEN IN JAIL

Demonstrators Jailed For Blocking Trucks Meet Violence At Camp

CLAYTON (UPI) —Three antiwar demonstrators, jailed for attempting to block napalm trucks at Port Chicago, were beaten up last night by fellow inmates at a county work camp.

Norman Smyth III, San Fran-Francisco; Robert Meriweather, Oakland, and James Morrell, Palo Alto, were treated for cuts and bruises and released from a Martinez hospital.

Capt. Robert Fisher of the Contra Costa County sheriff's office said Morrell was "whacked around" by other inmates at the Clayton Rehabilitation Center after the evening meal.

The other two men were beaten after lights out, Fisher said. Deputies then placed a fourth demonstrator, John Fleming, Berkeley, in an isolation cell for protection.

All four men were returned to the county jail at Martinez today.

Fisher said the attacks came after the four men expounded their antiwar views to other prisoners. He said those responsible would be disciplined if they were identified.

Meanwhile, fights also broke out at Port Chicago between anti-war pickets and hecklers. Officers said some of the demonstrators, who have been advocating nonviolence, struck back at hecklers last night.

Soledad Officials Say Cells Bare, But Clean

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Both sides were expected to finish presenting evidence today on a federal court hearing on conditions in the so-called "black hole" cells at Soledad Prison.

The evidentiary hearing, being conducted by Federal Districal Judge George B. Harris, is the result of a convict's suit which charged cruel andunusual punishment at the institution.

The suit was instigated by Robert Charles Jordan Jr., 27, assault conviction from Los Angeles. One of his claims was that he had not been given a shower during imprisonment in a "strip cell" from July 9 to July 20, 1965.

Prisoners testified at Soledad last week that they were kept nude in the unfurnished 6-by-9-foot concrete cubicles without light, heat or ventilation and had no opportunity to wash their hands, brush their teeth or take a shower.

Robert Hoagland, a correctional officer at Soledad for nine years, testified yesterday that he remembered escorting Jordan out of his cell during the 12 days in question and letting him shave and shower.

Other officials from the prison testified they were often in the strip cell area and found the state of clealiness satisfactory.

George F. Johnston, prison program administrator, justified the bare conditions in the strip cells by identifying various weapons made by prisoners out of toothbrushes. He alsoidentified a plastic water basin and a plastic pitcher which had been damaged by inmates of the cells.

The weapons were marked for identification, but not allowed into evidence since they were not proved to have been confiscated in strip cells.

Youth For Action Group Planning Car Wash, Dance

Marin Youth For Action Tuesday night made plans for a car wash and a dance as fund raising projects.

The group scheduled the car wash from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., on Aug. 27, according to Lawrence A. Lindberg of the County Schools Office which sponsors the youth group.

The Youths selected Vicki Gross of Tamalpais High School to captain a team at the Mobil Station, East Blithedale and Camino Alto, Mill Valley; Kathy Cane of San Rafael High School, to head a group at Cerutti's Service, Third and C Streets, San Rafael, and Bill Sonnenschien to supervise car washing at Harry Sabaca's Chevron Station in Terra Linda.

The dance was slated for Oct. 1 in the College of Marin gymnasium.

An executive board meeting was set for 7 p.m. Sept. 6, and the next general meeting for 7:30 p.m., Sept. 13, both in the county schools office, 201 Tamal Vista Boulevard, Corte Madera.

City Wards Return From Idaho Camp

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Twenty - nine San Francisco wandering wards, children ranging in age from 6 to 17, returned to the Youth Guidance center today from unlicensed camps in Montana and Idaho.

Thirty children, emotionally troubled and retarded, were sent to the camps because the city had no facilities to care for them. One child, 17, a boy, refused to return and hid in the hills of the Idaho camp where he still is sought.

Juvenile Judge Raymond O'Connor, who ordered the children's return, was at the center to greet them at 1 a.m. today when they arrived on a Greyhound bus with three adult supervisors.

He remained critical of the Department of Social Services, which had ordered the children to the Montana camp, and then to the Idaho camp Neither camp was licensed or equipped to care for the children.

Judge O'Connor said efforts were being made to find private homes for the youngsters. The Department of Social Services is empowered to pay up to $435 per month per child for care. The cost of returning them to the city was estimated at $3,000.

Wayne Manor Swings, Maybe Gotham City

SUNNYVALE (UPI) — This city 40 miles south of San Francisco features a Batman-styled nightclub called Wayne Manor.

To make things complete, a group of residents here were trying to change the name Sunnyvale to—you guessed it—Gotham City.

Copter Pioneer Into Research

PROVO, Utah (AP) — A former vice president of SFO Helicopter Airlines of San Francisco has been appointed as a reasearcher in the Brigham Young University development office.

John Cunningham was appointed to the post to assist in the analysis of fund-raising opportunities for BYU.

Cunningham holds the first license issued in the United States for piloting a hovercraft and was instrumental in introducing the new type aircraft to this country, a university spokesman said.

MOUNTAIN REFUGE

He Fled The World And All Its Turmoil

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Earl L. Francis rebelled at civilization for all his 33 years. His lonely fight seemed impossible to win.

A thin, balding man who held a variety of white-collar jobs, Francis left Washington, D.C., to flee the turmoil of 20th-Century life, he said.

"I'll never work another eight-hour, six-day week for any man," Francis said in 1964.

He picked a mile-high peak in the Catalina Mountains, overlooking Oracle, Ariz. For a year Francis, standing 5-feet-5 and weighing 125, worked night and day on a stone and glass cabin.

Up the mile climb where there was no road Francis hauled his building materials and he built a cozy place with electricity supplied by a power generator, running water and other conveniences. Then, he settled back to read, paint and meditate.

It happened to be on land in Coronado National Forest. An eight-foot hole in his backyard was called a gold mine by Francis but the U. S. Forest Service said he trespassed on public lands. Francis replied he would never move.

The law permits construction of a dwelling near a claim but states the claim must contain enough gold to warrant a patent or title to the land. This wasn't so with Francis' mine.

Discouraged and expecting eviction from his self-made castle, authorities said, Francis sat down on a case of dynamite Tuesday, lighted the fuse and blew himself to bits.

Communist Disclaimer Still Required For Medicare

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A federal court panel of three judges has denied a petition for a preliminary injunction removing a disclaimer of Communism from Medicare application blanks.

However, the panel scheduled Oct. 4 for trial on the disclaimer question raised in a suit filed by the American Civil Liberties Union on behalf of Mrs. Alda Reed of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Reed and her lawyers contend the question abridges the constitutional rights of freedom of speech and association.

The ACLU had obtained a temporary restraining order pending the injunction ruling. Because of the order, federal lawyers said at earlier hearings that the Department of Health, Education and Welfare had decided not to process Medicare applications until the controversy is settled.

But Social Security officials announced yesterday that they tentatively plan to resume processing. Nationally, an estimated 6,000 persons are applying for Medicare each week.

Restaurant Shut Down For Failure To Pay Trust Tax

Agents of the federal Internal Revenue Service have closed Corey's Restaurant at 1242 Fourth Street, San Rafael, for failure to pay $2,000 in trust-fund taxes for the first quarter of 1966.

The restaurant was padlocked at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday by two revenue agents, according to Frank R. Busalacchi, information officer for the IRS in San Francisco.

Trust fund taxes involve money deducted from employees' paychecks for tax withholding purposes. They must be held by employers and passed on to the government quarterly.

"We take a very firm stand on trust fund taxes," said Busalacchi. The government could start legal advertising to sell the assets of the restaurant within 10 days.

Ernest M. Kessler, the restaurant's owner, said he hoped to have it re-opened within that period.

Hubcaps Stolen

John D. Imber of San Rafael told police Tuesday he will easily recognize the four hubcaps stolen from his car while it was parked outside his home at 722 Belle Avenue.

Tiburon House Of Animals

Young Pair Prepare Zoo Inhabitants

By PAT PERRY

It's slightly disconcerting to visit the Brammar family of Tiburon. You walk up the front path and a jaguar cub nibbles your shoe amiably. A cold wet nose nuzzles your elbow and you find yourself practically face to face with a pair of monstrous Great Danes.

You head toward the garage and Richard Brammar warns: "Don't open the door or the fox will escape again."

And, fearless reporter that you are, you rest your notebook on top of a handy cage only to find it disappearing into another jaguar cub's mouth.

The mind boggles at the thought of visiting the Brammar's other house in Sebastopol. There they have foxes and otters and jaguars — and soon a couple of lions and a cheetah.

Brammar and his wife, Diana, "just love animals." They raise them, train them, breed them, and sell them, for Brammar is a licensed animal trader.

Their main ambition in life is to open a zoo in Marin County, and to that end they're already breeding stock on their seven-acre ranch in Sebastopol.

"I sell and trade animals of all kinds," explained Brammar, "I export and import them, but we are primarily trying to build up our stock. We'd love to build a zoo in Marin, the kind where children can walk around and play with baby llamas and goats and baby animals, with the larger ones in cages."

Besides their Great Danes, the couple keep only a few current babies at their 13 Juno Road home. And they try to avoid making real pets of the babies which will eventually be sold. Their 3-year-old daughter Wendy, utterly blase about jaguars in the kitchen and foxes in the garage, calls all the jaguars "Kitty" and all the foxes "Fox."

Kitty, the famous guard jaguar at the Alto Strip service station, is actually the Brammars' pet. Diana Brammar trained him from a baby, he obeys commands and has been used in movies.

"Jaguars make marvelous pets, they're playful and harmless," said Mrs. Brammar. "When they're small, kids can play with them, although not when they're older."

While the Brammars "always have a few jaguars around the house" what she'd really like is a cheetah.

"I had one when we first married," she said. "They're wonderful, very docile and lackadaisical, and so handsome. They are being killed off fast in Africa, so we hope to acquire some breeding stock soon."

Particularly interested in animal breeds facing extinction, Brammar is currently breeding kit foxes, a small variety. "They are found around the San Joaquin River, and an irrigation or flood project is killing them," he explained. "Two San Francisco doctors are interested in saving them, so they go down and rescue any they can and bring them to me. I'm raising the young at our place in Sebastopol."

Jaguars are becoming increasingly popular as pets, claimed Brammar. "You'd be surprised at the number of people who have them. Look at ocelots! Lots of people keep them in apartments.

"But you must have a proper place to keep the animals that will grow large, like the jaguars. We have to make sure people are properly qualified to buy them, for while they're small as cubs, when they're adult they need plenty of room. We only sell to someone who wants a jaguar because they're the kind of pet they are, and understands the type of animal."

And, let's face it, you'd have to really want a jaguar. A cub costs $650.

Novato College Planned For 6,000 Later

The Novato campus of the College of Marin will contain an autonomous community college, not a branch, according to Trustee Joseph D. Gargiulo.

Gargiulo said he will present a report on the status of plans for the Novato campus at a public meeting at 8 p.m. next Wednesday at the Novato High School library.

The initial development at the campus will cost about $8 million and will accommodate 2,500 students, he said. "Eventually the cost will be $20 million and the enrollment 6,000," he said.

According to the academic master plan, the college will offer a complete, comprehensive two-year college program, Gargiulo said.

There will be courses for those who want to obtain an associate in arts degree, for those who want to transfer to another college and for those who are interested in vocational and technical subjects, he said. There also will be adult education and other non-credit courses, he said.

Gargiulo met last night with members of the district's financial advisory committee and North Marin Campus Citizens Committee to review plans for the campus. It was not an official meeting of either committee, but members of both were invited, he explained.

Thirteen Days Left, One Third Taxes Paid

Deadline for payment of unsecured taxes is Aug. 31, and only about one-third of the total tax bill of $2,265,972 has been paid, Joseph Coffrini, chief of the tax division in the treasurer-tax collector's office, announced today.

"This is about normal," he said, explaining that most of the payments come in during the final week.

So far, $708,420 has been paid. Most of the bills were processed in time for mailing by July 31, Coffrini said.

Treasurer-tax collector Stanley J. Fontez earlier said that data processing was taking too long to process bills and if there was not a speed-up, many bills would be late. Coffrini said there was a speed-up and only about 25 bills were processed after July 31. Under a new state law, deadline on these late bills must be extended to Sept. 30.

Most taxpayers, however, face the Aug. 31 deadline. These must be paid at the Civic Center office by 5 p.m. or else payment must be mailed to the office prior to midnight to beat the deadline. Late payments will carry a 6 per cent penalty.

ALL DOGS PLEASE READ THIS

Those dogs in Marin who have not been licensed for fiscal 1967 had better tell their masters to shape up. The deadline is Aug. 31.

After the deadline, the metal tags will cost owners $5 rather than $4. The cost is the same for all dogs, regardless of sex.

Owners must show evidence of vaccination against rabies.

Mill Valley Enthusiastic At Clean-Up

Approximately 150 business and professional men and commercial property owners last night attended the second general meeting of Mill Valley Businessmen at the community and youth center.

Sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce's businessmen's committee, the meeting was part of a campaign aimed at "pulling Mill Valley up by its bootstraps," committee chairman Sam W. Schneider said today. Citing the enthusiastic response last night to the campaign, Schneider declared "it's really caught fire."

A key proposal is a paint-up, clean-up campaign, estimated cost of which for 50 buildings, exclusive of paint, would be about $100 for each building, Schneider said. Paint would be donated or bought at reduced prices, he said. Labor would be donated by service organizations.

Next step will be to get approval of the campaign by the Chamber board of directors.

The committee is also considering an advertising program "to get Mill Valley residents to shop more in Mill Valley," said Schneider.

That Old Cartoon Situation In Fact

Katherine Mae Trau, of 6 Echo Avenue, Corte Madera, awoke at 3:55 a.m. today, glanced at her bedroom door and saw, looking right back at her, a burglar.

She nudged her husband, Phillip, and the six-foot sneak thief started running. By the time the couple was out of bed, the burglar had cleared the front door and disappeared into the night.

Police said he had taken Mrs. Trau's wallet from her purse in the kitchen. He dropped the wallet and three dollars on the front lawn. Still missing was about $40, Mrs. Trau said.

Tulane's new football coach, Jim Pittman, played at Mississippi State.

Chief Alone Fights Fire In Marinwood

Marinwood Fire Chief James Cameron was a fire crew of one yesterday, but he and the occupant of a home at 340 Ironstone Court were able to put out a garage fire before it spread to the house.

"It could have been a disaster," Cameron said.

When he arrived at the Clifford J. Olson home at 2:35 p.m., flames were through the roof at one end of the garden. Olson had used a garden hose to keep the flames down, but he was unable to put the fire out, Cameron said.

The other full-time members of the Marinwood Fire Department were off duty, Cameron said. No volunteer responded to the alarm. He said yesterday's fire emphasized his repeated requests for more men.

"We've been riding on luck for some time," he said.

Housing Authority Gets No Loan Bids

The tight money market was blamed yesterday by the director of the County Housing Authority, Donald O. Stutsman, for the lack of bids Tuesday on authority loan notes totaling $1,320,000.

The only alternative, a loan from the federal government for the notes at 4⅛ per cent interest, will cost the authority $18,000 a year above the cost of loans offered by banks as recently as February at 2.75 per cent interest, Stutsman said.

Automobile Stolen

Kathy Loraine Kaenel of 100 Alder Avenue, San Anselmo, reported to San Rafael police that her 1955 dark blue Chevrolet sedan was stolen yesterday between 9:45 and 10:30 p.m. while parked at Cijos and Third streets.

Sausalito Finds No Legal Limits On Boat Sizes

The Queen Mary could dock in Sausalito under present municipal ordinances, the city planning commission discovered last night.

The realization that there is no legal limit on the size of boats and floating objects allowed in city waters came in a discussion of the four large floating drydocks anchored off Marinship. Repair of the drydocks by Diesel Engineering and Maintenance Co. is expected to take 12 to 18 months.

Commissioners agreed that some limit should be set and asked the zoning committee to recommend one.

The commission referred to the city council a memorandum from Building Inspector William L. Hynes advising that repair of the drydocks is a permitted use in the waterfront zone.

After a four-hour section-by-section review of the proposed sign ordinance, the commission referred proposed revision to its sign committee.

Burglary Suspect

William Francis Victorine Jr., wanted in connection with two burglaries in Novato, was returned yesterday by Novato Police from San Luis Obispo, where he had been in jail, and booked into Marin County Jail with bail set at $5,500.

Contract Awarded For Highway Work

The state Division of Highways yesterday awarded a $272,498 contract to Ghilotti Brothers, Inc., of San Rafael to resurface 34 miles of highway in Marin, Sonoma and Contra Costa counties.

In Marin, the firm will repave worn sections of Highway 1 between Muir Beach and Bolinas.

Today is Thursday, Aug. 18, the 230th day of 1966 with 135 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning stars are Mars, Venus, Mercury, Jupiter and Saturn. There are no evening stars.

Virginia Dare became the first white child born in America on this day in 1587.

On this day in history:

In 1856, the Patent Office approved condensed milk but doubted that it would be of much commercial value.

In 1916, Abraham Lincoln's birthplace at Hodgenville, Ky., was given to the American government as a national shrine.

In 1924, French troops followed up the Versailles treaty by beginning the evacuation of the Ruhr Valley.

In 1940, the United States and Canada established a joint defense plan against possible enemy attack.

A thought for the day — Italian artist Michelangelo said: "If it be true that any beautiful thing raises the pure and just desire of man from earth to God, the eternal fount of all, such I believe my love."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

HOW TO PLAY
WINNING BRIDGE
By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Planning, Not Accident Should Dictate Your Line Of Strategy

When there are two ways to play a hand it is quite normal to choose the one that lies under your thunb rather than one that takes a new effort.

Opening lead — ◇ 5

South captured the king of diamonds with the ace and decided to keep up the good work in diamonds rather than look for any other line of play.

He cashed the ace of trumps, took the queen of diamonds, ruffed a diamond in dummy and returned dummy's last trump for a finesse with the jack.

West took the queen of trumps and the jack of diamonds and then shifted to the ten of clubs.

East got a club trick and wisely returned a low spade. Now South had to lose a trick in each suit. Down one.

BETTER CHANCE

South should have played for the five missing spades to be divided 3-2.

The odds were only even on the trump finesse but were slightly better than 2 to 1 on the 3-2 spade break.

After taking the first trick with the ace of diamonds South should lead a low spade from his hand and play low also from dummy.

The opponents can take one club and knock out the queen of diamonds, whereupon South draws two rounds of trumps with the ace and king and then leads out the ace and king of spades.

If West fails to ruff, declarer leads the rest of the spades to get rid of his two low diamonds.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes. You hold:

♠ K 9 7 4 3
♣ Q J 4.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two spades.

Despite your trump length you have a very poor hand and can afford only a weak response.

Question Changed On Census Forms

SYDNEY (AP) — In the forms for the next census in Australia, one question has been changed from "Length of residence in Australia" to "Period of residence in Australia."

Reason: In the past many people measured the outside dimensions of their houses to answer the question.

NOTICE OF SALE OF PROPERTY DELINQUENT FOR NON-PAYMENT OF ASSESSMENT BOND NO. 183 MARIN BAY IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT NO. 1 SERIES 1961-1 ISSUED FOR IMPROVEMENTS IN MARIN COUNTY

State of California, default having been made in the payment of the following named coupons, 1/2/66, Pr. $433.33; 7/2/65, Int. $143.00; 1/2/66, Int. $143.00; 7/2/66, Int. $130.00; and the holder of said bond having demanded in writing that the County Treasurer of the County of Marin, State of California, proceed to advertise and sell the lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond. Now, therefore, I give notice that I will on the 2nd day of September, 1966, at the hour of 10:00 o'clock A.M. of said day, sell at public auction, the lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond, or so much thereof as may be necessary, at my office in the Marin County Civic Center at San Rafael, California, unless the amount due on said bond and the accrued interest thereon together with the cost of publication of this notice, are paid, and that I will so sell the same to the person who will take the least amount of said lot or parcel of land and pay the full amount of unpaid principal and interest on said bond together with the cost of publication. The lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond and to be sold, is more particularly described, to-wit: Lot No. 184 Marin Bay Unit No. 1 Maps Volume 10 Page 78 Records of Marin County. The amount due on said bond up to the date of this notice is as follows: Due on the principal thereof $433.33; due on account of interest $462.08; due on account of penalties $77.21; Total amount due on said bond $5739.25.

In order to avoid this sale, payment of the total amount above named will be required, together with the cost of publication made before such payment and the additional interest accruing up to the date of payment. Bond may be reinstated upon payment of amounts due, interest, penalties, and fees, in the manner provided by law.

In the event of sale, such sale will include interest in addition to the above total amount due, accruing up to the date of sale, the cost of publication of notice of sale, and $1.00 for the issuance of certificate of sale.

The Independent-Journal is designated as the newspaper in which this notice shall be published.

TOWN CONTRACT NO. 64
PHASE I—WEST TOWN PARK DRAINAGE PROJECT
CORTE MADERA, CALIFORNIA
NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed proposals will be received by the Town Clerk of the Town of Corte Madera until 2:00 p.m., September 2, 1966 for:

The construction of 332' of 36" storm drain, 194' of 48" storm drain, 3 drainage structures and various appurtenances in Town Park, Town of Corte Madera, California.

Plans, Specifications (but not including Standard Specifications or other documents included by reference) and Proposal Forms may be obtained by prospective bidders upon payment of Five Dollars ($5.00) cash or check made payable to Town of Corte Madera which is non-refundable.

All bids must be submitted on the Proposal Form obtained from the Town Clerk and shall be accompanied by the Proposal Guaranty of at least ten percent (10%) of the bid. Guaranties shall be in the form of a certified or Cashier's check or a Bidder's Bond. Failure of the successful bidder to execute and return the contract or to file acceptable bond, as required, within the time allotted shall be cause for the annulment of the award and the forfeiture of the Proposal Guaranty.

The Town reserves the right to reject any or all bids, or to waive any informality in a bid.

BY ORDER OF THE TOWN COUNCIL OF THE TOWN OF CORTE MADERA, CALIFORNIA.

Dated: August 15, 1966

Private Group Would Assist Redwood Park

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall told Congress today a private foundation would finance the saving of California redwood trees until Congress can complete action on a bill creating a national park.

Udall diclosed the offer of the foundation at a hearing of the Senate subcommittee on national parks. He said the foundation was willing to pay the Miller-Rellim Company the difference in what it would lose by moving cutting operations out of the proposed park area to other areas the company holds.

William F. Regan, attorney for the company, told reporters he thought the proposal was illegal. In any event, he added, it was unacceptable.

Sen. Thomas Kuchel, R-Calif., repeated charges made earlier on the Senate floor that the Miller-Rellim Company's action in continuing to cut trees off land proposed for the park was "an outrage against the American people." He also said this "rape of these ancient giants" was carried out under a shroud of secrecy.

Harold A. Miller, president of the company, was in the audience and was scheduled to testify later in the hearing.

Udall reiterated the administration's proposal that a national park be created out of 43,234 acres, including two state parks and 19,750 acres of virgin redwood timber. He put a price tag on land acquisition at $56 million. Miller-Rellim earlier estimated their 18,000 acres alone in the proposed park area were worth $90 million.

The secretary also outlined a plan that would reimburse Del Norte County $340,000 a year in lieu of taxes for private land taken for the park. This was a new departure, and Udall said it was justified only because of the "unusual circumstances" involved. Chief among these were that about 75 per cent of the county's land was already in government ownership and that further reduction of taxable property would be unduly burdensome.

There was virtually no chance of a redwood park bill passing both houses of Congress this year. But Udall said he was hopeful the measure could be passed within the next 12 months. He said to delay longer would probably be too late.

The committee also had before it an amendment to increase the size of the park to 90,000 acres, including 42,000 acres of virgin trees. This proposal was estimated to cost variously $140 million to $200 million. Kuchel said it was not possible to commit the federal treasury to such cost, and Udall agreed.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

History Has Often Associated Gout With High Intelligence

VAN DELLEN

So many famous persons have had gout that the disease is often associated with higher than normal intelligence in adults. The victims have excessive amounts of uric acid in the blood (hyperuricemia). This chemical forms sodium urate crystals that are deposited in joints and other tissues.

The incidence of gout varies from a small fraction of 1 to 4 per cent or higher among meat-eating people. We have more than our share in this country. The incidence is highest among Filipino males. The first definite case of gout in Japan was reported in 1898. Since then there has been a gradual increase and the 1964 survey uncovered 1,840 cases. There are no statistics on gout in Chicago, but my guess is that there are two to four times that number in this city.

A HEREDITARY type of juvenile gout affects only males and, like hemophilia, it is passed along through the maternal side of the family. These youngsters have a self-destructive urge and bite their lips and occasionally gnaw on the fingers. They feel the pain and may scream but do not stop biting. They also develop cerebral palsy, obvious mental retardation, and other nervous manifestitations. The cause is not known except that they lack something which in turn disturbs the normal metabolism of purines.

Colchicine is the most effective drug for the relief of the acute attack of gout. We do not know how it acts because it does not lower the uric acid content of the blood or tissues. It is a safe drug because diarrhea develops when too much is consumed. Phenylbutazone, cortisone, aspirin, and griseofulvin also relieve the distress of acute gout.

DIET AND the use of probenecid or allopurinol lower the uric acid level and prevent recurrent attacks. Most victims of gout can eat a well-balanced diet, avoiding only purine-rich foods such as sweetbreads, liver, kidney, brain, anchovies, sardines, and leguminous vegetables.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

Not unless tests show that a glandular disorder exists. Temporary relief can be obtained with a tweezer, depilatory or razor. Permanent results follow the use of electrolysis.

QUIVERING EYELIDS

R .E. B. writes: I am 28 and anxious and tense. Recently I developed a twitch or quiver under the lower lids of my eyes. It is not constant, but frequent enough for me to question it. Could this be due to nerves, smoking, or both?

REPLY

Pirates Jolted By Mets' Biggest Win

But Wes Westrum glumly announced that he had no funny hats with which to celebrate the New York Mets' come-from-behind 8-7 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates last night.

Taylor became the first opposing player to garner a trophy in the Pittsburgh Pirates' unique award system after his pinch hit grand slam homer helped beat the Pirates.

"I talked Bob Prince, Pittsburgh broadcaster, out of it," he grinned . . . "Maybe it will be lucky for me."

Taylor, Westrum and the rest of the Mets cast a pall on the Pirates' post-game victory ritual of dressing up in funny hats and throwing water on one another and clipped a full game off Pittsburgh's National League lead, too.

"I'd have to say it was our best victory of the year," said Westrum.

It started out like another one of those nights for the Mets, who had dropped 13 of 16 to the Pirates this season. Willie Stargell, Bill Mazeroski and Don Clendenon all tagged long homers in the first three innings, giving Bob Veale a 7-1 lead.

But three straight singles and a walk gave the Mets one run and left the bases loaded with one out in the fourth. "We needed the long ball," said Westrum, "so I went for Taylor."

The seldom-used substitute who had been to the plate only 81 times this season, went up to swing for Ed Kranepool. "I was surprised when Westrum told me to hit," he admitted.

The count went to 1-2 and then Taylor unloaded.

"I was really elated, running around the bases. I said to myself, 'Hawk, you've done your job'."

That made the score 7-6 and two innings later, the Mets took the lead. Ron Swoboda was on second with two out when Taylor was hit by a pitch. Chuck Hiller pinch hit and singled, loading the bases and then Ron Hunt ripped a hit up the middle, scoring Swoboda and Taylor.

Westrum called on Bob Friend to hold the lead and the ex-Pirate did the job with three innings of one-hit relief.

Friend had to do it the hard way, facing Roberto Clemente and Stargell in the ninth inning. He got Clemente on a bouncer and struck out Stargell, ending the game.

And in the Pirate dressing room, the clubhouse cutups who call themselves the Black Maxers, looked a little bit blue.

Sandy's Arm Hurt As Dodgers Lose

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sandy Koufax believes he can pitch as scheduled next Sunday, in spite of an injury that forced him from the field in a game against Cincinnati.

But the flareup in the arthritic left elbow of the two-time Cy Young Award winner has cast a cloud over his brilliant career.

"I've been able to pitch with the elbow hurting, but it's getting worse and worse," the Los Angeles Dodgers' 19-game winner said last night after a 5-1 loss to the Reds. "This thing the arthritis is incurable. There is no way it will get better."

The 30-year-old strikeout champion had to have an injection of cortisone in his left elbow after leaving the game in the fifth inning. Dr. Robert Kerlan, a Dodger team physician, says Sandy may be able to pitch Sunday against St. Louis here.

"He's had this trouble before," said Dr. Kerlan, "but this is the first time he has had that much pain during a game. Usually, it hurts him between starts."

A cortisone injection about a month ago greatly relieved Koufax's condition, but he says the elbow began to bother him once more in the last two innings of his 6-1 victory over Chicago last Saturday.

"We talked then about having another cortisone shot, but is was decided to wait until after the Cincinnati game," Koufax said.

Koufax says the elbow started to hurt him last night when he struck out Don Pavletich in the second inning. In the fourth inning, he walked the bases loaded before giving up a three-run double to Leo Cardenas. The double cost him his seventh loss of the season and his sixth defeat in 11 decisions since June 26.

Reliever Billy McCool choked off a Los Angeles rally in the eighth inning to save the victory for starter Sammy Ellis (10-14).

Ellis got into a bases-loaded jam with none out when Wes Parker and Lou Johnson hit singles and Wes Covington walked.

But McCool allowed only a run-scoring fly to Willie Davis, letting the Redlegs salvage the third and final game of the series. The defeat kept the Dodgers three games behind Pittsburgh in the National League race.

Don Drysdale (8-13) will pitch the opener of a four-game series with St. Louis when he goes tonight against Bob Gibson (15-9).

Giants Expect To Shatter N.L. Road Attendance Mark

HANLEY

WHETHER THE Giants win or lose the tense National League baseball race, Horace Stoneham will be able to declare a fat dividend to stockholders in National Exhibition Co.

Stoneham, as president and majority stockholder of the company that legally owns the Giants, should have no trouble at year's end with John Gilbert, an inquisitive minority stockholder who owns 10 shares in NEC.

GILBERT HAS shares in some 200 companies and attends stockholders meetings from coast to coast to make certain financial reports are as they should be. He should be pleased with this year's earnings of the Giants, especially on the road.

Art Santo Domingo, satistician for the ball club, has been keeping a careful count of road attendance. "It now is 1,647,118 with 18 road games left," Santo Domingo reports. "We probably will set a new National League road attendance record this year, breaking 1,918,669 by the Dodgers last season."

GILBERT WILL have no trouble at all in translating that into dollars. Each one of the road customers means 27½ cents to the Giants. Ordinary blokes might find it difficult to divide 27½ into a couple of million but not Gilbert. He is a lightning calculator and he doesn't need paper and pencil to do his arithmetic.

GILBERT'S PRIMARY interest in the Giants is their financial statement. That's understandable for a stockholder. But he also has more than a passing knowledge of baseball. As far back as 1961 there were rumors that Orlando Cepeda was going to be traded. At the 1961 stockholders meeting, Gilbert pointedly asked Stoneham:

"Are you going to trade Cepeda?"

"We have no intention of trading him," said Stoneham. "We are going to keep him."

AT THIS year's meeting, Gilbert undoubtedly will ask Stonehom:

"Why did you trade Cepeda for Ray Sadecki?"

If Gilbert doesn't ask the question, his brother Lewis D. Gilbert probably will. Lewis is every bit as aggressive at a stockholders meeting as John.

SOME YEARS ago Edgar P. Feeley, treasurer of National Exhibition Company, became so incensed at repeated interruptions by Lewis that he invited him to "meet me outside."

At that meeting, Stoneham repeatedly found it necessary to call to his treasurer: "Edgar, please restrain yourself."

Mays Has 535; 714 Possible?

By RON BERGMAN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—From now on, every home run Willie Mays hits will set a record and add to the legend growing around the center fielder of the San Francisco Giants.

For no right-hander in baseball history has hit as many homers as Mays, who cracked the 535th of his glittering career yesterday.

The Giants used the bases-empty blast as the impetus to come from behind for a 4-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Now only the left-handed Babe Ruth's 714 ranks ahead of Mays, who figures he doesn't have a chance to catch the late New York Yankee slugger.

But No. 535 also was No. 30 of the season for Mays, who has 41 more games to add to that total. Now 35 years old, he would have to average 30 homers for the next six years to pass Ruth. Physically, the non-smoking, non - drinking Mays looks as if he could do it.

"I feel real great about it," said Mays about his historic homer. "This is the first time anyone has achieved this in so short a time. The rest of those guys had 20 years and I've had only 15."

The Giants had not got a hit off Washburn until Mays hit his one-out homer in the fourth inning. Washburn struck out Mays in the first and again in the sixth.

"What's all the fuss about?" asked Washburn, who was removed from the game in the eighth and did not take the loss. "It was just a homer — just one

Hawken Vs. Leach In Golf Semis

Marin County will have a boy in the finals at the Northern California Golf Assn. Junior Amateur Championships tomorrow.

It will be either defending champ Don Hawken of San Rafael or Ray Leach of Novato, who meet today in one of the semi-final rounds of the tourney being played at Lake Merced golf course in San Francisco.

Both Marin County youngsters had easy times of it yesterday in quarter-final action, Hawken defeating Dave Shank 5 and 4 and Leach bumping Glenn Hatlett, 7 and 5.

In the other semi-final match today, Bob Eberle of Hanford meets Sandy McCall. Eberle beat Lee Cook 3 and 2 in yesterday's quarterfinals and McCall downed Larry Cram, 2 and 1.

Kilmer, Mira 'Okay' Trade

MORAGA (AP) — Reserve quarterbacks Bill Kilmer and George Mira both say they would be willing to be traded away from the San Francisco 49ers if it would mean they could play more.

Mira, who last year played behind top signal-caller John Brodie and completed 28 of 58 passes for 460 yards, said yesterday in answer to a reporter's question:

"If it meant I could play more, sure I would (like to be traded). I like everybody here (on the 49er team), and I like San Francisco, but everybody wants to get off the bench."

Kilmer, who played a little in exhibition games last year but saw no league action, is the only 49er who has not yet signed his contract this year.

He expressed similar feelings, adding, "If I'm not traded, I'll play for them (the 49ers), whether I sign my contract or not." There was no elaboration.

The 49er management said recently that no trades are in the works at the present time.

And Coach Jack Christiansen, who last year carried the three quarterbacks all season, said, "I plan to keep three again, unless I have an injury and have to overload at another position."

The 49ers at present have a fourth quarterback, Jim LeClair, a 16th draft choice from C. W. Post College, but he has seen no game action this season.

The 49ers play Pittsburgh this Saturday night in Portland. Both teams are 0-2 and will be shooting for a victory.

Christiansen, who must cut his squad from 55 to 49 by next Tuesday in accordance with league requirements, will be taking a close look at the play of the 49er rookies.

Violent Speedway Smashup Kills Veteran Racer Miles

The 47-year-old driver, who had been enjoying his best season since he started racing in his native England in 1938, died instantly yesterday from severe head injuries, a track official said.

According to witnesses, the sports car he was driving plunged off a high bank near the final turn of the nine-turn course, rolled end-over-end and landed in the infield. Miles was thrown from the car, which burst into flames and was totally destroyed.

KEN MILES
Veteran killed

Officials estimated the machine, a prototype called the Formula J car, approached the turn near the end of the mile-long back straight-away at 170 miles per hour.

Tuesday Miles broke Riverside's lap record with a 1:26.4 clocking at an average speed of 106.33 m.p.h. in the same vehicle, which had never been entered in a race.

Miles, a slender and wiry physical fitness devotee, recently said of the dangers in auto racing:

"If you are going to indulge in the sport, that's one of the things you have to face . . . and accept."

The veteran driver won two of the year's three major endurance sports car races—the Daytona 24-hour, when he teamed with Lloyd Ruby, and the Sebring 12-hour—and missed winning the third at Le Mans, France, on a technicality. He was first at the end of the 24 hours, but was relegated to second because of unusual circumstances regarding starting positions of the first two finishers.

Miles, who became Shelby - American's chief test driver and team driver in 1963, started racing motorcycles in England 28 years ago.

After spending seven years as a British army sergeant, Miles came to the United States in 1951 and became a naturalized citizen. He gained early fame on the West Coast as a Porsche driver, and set a record of 49 finishes in 49 starts, most of them victories.

Independent Journal Sports

38 Thurs., Aug. 18, 1966

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Willie Mays, the second greatest home run hitter of all time, is a man who never ceased to be a youngster.

"The thing about Willie is he never has lost his enthusiasm," said Herman Franks, manager of the San Francisco Giants. "He loves baseball. No matter how many records he sets or how much money he makes, he'll still be a kid out there in the field."

"I'll have to average 40 a year to catch up with that guy, the Babe," Willie said recently. "I don't think I can do it."

Many baseball men disagree.

"Willie will be playing baseball better when he's in a rocking chair," said Leo Durocher, who was manager of the then New York Giants when Willie was brought up in 1951. Now Leo manages the Chicago Cubs.

Mays is 35. His salary, traditionally a baseball secret, is reliably reported to be $125,000 a year. He lives in a swank, five-tiered, split level home on top of a winding hill in San Francisco.

Mays, born in the little village of Westfield, Ala., May 6, 1931, has come a long way from his humble beginnings. He dresses like Cesar Romero. He has fattened his baseball income with business enterprises and endorsements from soft drink, toy and sporting goods firms.

When a fly ball is hit to center field, the fleet Giant ace races toward it, his cap flying off in the process, and calmly catches the ball with both hands cupped —basket style—in the vicinity of his stomach.

Willie broke into the major leagues with the Giants in 1951 in Philadelphia. Since then, he has been on the game's escalator. He has led the National League in home runs four times —1955, 1962, 1964 and 1965. His best year was 52 homers in 1965.

He was named the National League's Most Valuable Player in 1954 and 1965. He was acclaimed baseball's Player of the Year in 1954.

Willie began the year with 505 homers, standing fifth in the all-time list behind Ruth, Foxx, Ted Williams and Mel Ott. One by one he passed the various mile stones.

"I don't know," Mays says. "Every man is different. I would like to play until I am 39 or 40, but we will just have to wait and see."

Casper Favored In 'Insurance' Tourney

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) — U.S. Open champ Billy Casper loomed as a favorite today as the $100,000 Insurance City Open got under way at the Wethersfield Country Club.

Casper won the ICO in 1963 and again last year. He would become the first man to win two years in succession if he tops the field this year.

The 6,568-yard Wethersfield course received a drenching rain Monday and again Tuesday night. The soaking was welcomed by tournament officials who had been concerned over the condition of the sun-scorched par-71 layout.

Other entrants in this 15th annual event included Phoenix Open winner Dudley Wysong; Ken Venturi, a former ICO winner and champ of this year's Lucky International, and British Amateur champion Bobby Cole.

Rams Will Start Roman Gabriel

ORANGE (AP) — Roman Gabriel wiill open at quarterback Satutrday night when the Los Angeles Rams meet the Minnesota Vikings in their third pre-season game, Ram Coach George Allen announced.

The rest of the Ram starting backfield will include Tom Moore at halfback, Tommy McDonald at flanker and rookie Henry Dyer at fullback for the game at Minneapolis - St. Paul, Allen said.

Two rookies were released Wednesday — punter Ron Perez from the University of Tampa and defensive end Perry Parks from Cal State at Los Angeles.

Safe At Home

MAYS PASSES FOXX

The Legend Grows With Every Homer

standing next to the right-field bleachers. He traded it for two autographed baseballs, $25 and the chance to get photographed with Mays about 100 times.

The crowd of 32,035 at Candlestick Park gave Mays a standing ovation as he circled the bases. Umpire Chris Pelekoudas shook his hand as he came home and then dusted the plate slowly so the crowd could keep cheering. Mays accepted the congratulations of his teammates and then stepped from the dugout smiling and tipped his cap to the crowd.

"I don't think the pressure was on me at all," said Mays. "I felt the pressure much more for 512."

That was the homer May 4 at Candlestick that broke Mel Ott's National League record. Mays had hit 511 on April 24.

Mays who has homered four times in the last six games, used different bats for 534 and 535. After hitting the one Tuesday night, he chipped his bat singling. He uses a 35-inch bat that weighs 34⅛ ounces.

Juan Marichal started for the Giants but reinjured his left ankle and had to leave the game after being touched for three runs in the first two innings, including a lead-off homer by Lou Brock.

The Giants tied it 3-3 in the eighth. Pinch-hitter Bob Burda started the two-run rally with a one-out single and moevd to second as Brock bobbled the ball in left for an error.

Tito Fuentes singled pinch-runner Don Mason across before Mays drew a walk and Willie McCovey tied the score with a two-out single off left-hander Joel Hoerner.

Jesus Alou singled in the winning run with one out in the ninth. Tom Haller had opened with a single and moved to third on a base hit by Jimmy Davenport before Alou hit his pinch single off loser Nelson Briles (4-12). Frank Linzy (5-9) got the victory for one inning of relief.

All-Star Tackles Not All Brawn

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Tackles are the biggest players on the field, and often draw criticism as being all brawn and no brain. A look at the tackles for the Marin County All-Star grid game Aug. 25 shows this criticism is all wet.

The tackles for the Kentfield game are big, very big. But they're no dummies, as the various B grade averages prove. Here's a rundown on the tackles for the game:

NORTH TACKLES

DAVE DUKES was team captain for the Terra Linda Trojans last year and was given honorable mention all-league as offensive tackle. He stands 6-1 and weighs 195 and won varsity letters in football two years. He also played varsity basketball and varsity track and field. Not all brawn this boy, he carried a B average at Terra Linda and was senior class vice president.

KEN BEERBOWER is a big (6-0, 225) tackle who played a lot of football at San Rafael High. One of the top linemen every year, he played frosh, J.V. and two years varsity for the Bulldogs. Besides football, Ken competed two years in track, heaving the shot and discus.

BOB SAUNDERS played junior varsity football at Terra Linda High before his family moved to Novato, giving the Hornets a fine player for two varsity years. He was named to the All-Marin Athletic League team as a middle guard, and he also played offensive tackle. He was named outstanding lineman by his Novato teammates after last season. The 6-foot, 190-pound gridder was also president of the Novato Letterman Club. He plans to attend College of Marin.

JOHN YOUNGS is another of the fine linemen to have come out of Novato High School. He's 5-11 and weighs 225 pounds and is an excellent blocker. Besides football, where he made all-league one year and honorable mention another, Youngs played varsity baseball, junior varsity basketball, and was on the varsity track team. A former president of the Novato High School student body, he was named the team's captain one year and most inspirational player another. Youngs plans to major in physical education at Oregon State.

SOUTH TACKLES

ERNIE BERGMAN, 5-11 and 195 pounds, was one of the best blockers on the Tamalpais High School team last year. He also earned letters on the school's baseball and wrestling teams, and is also quite a swimmer. His school activities are quite varied, including letterman club, judicial committee, student government, dramatics, and being cheerleader for the basketball team. He intends to enter the Navy next month.

BILL McNAMARA, at 5-11 and 205, was the biggest man on the Redwood High School team last year. He was used mostly on defense this past season, and was elected co-captain by his teammates. He broke a leg in the first game of the 1964 season and had to sit out the rest of the year. He returned last year to be one of the stalwarts on the Redwood line.

GARY WITTENMEIR is one of the best linemen to ever come out of Marin Catholic. Forget about a number when you're trying to find him on the field. Just look for the biggest guy. He is 6-5 and weighs 245 pounds, and because of his size and strength, is very hard to take out of play. He made all-league and second team All-North Coast last season as a tackle who went both ways for the Wildcats but was best at defense. He was co-captain of Marin Catholic's grid team and quite a discus thrower on the track and field squad, making it all the way to the state meet. His plans are for University of California next month.

GARY STEPHENS was a two-year varsity player at Tamalpais High and received honorable mention all-league as a defensive tackle last year, and was team captain. The 6-0, 200-pound Stephens was also the No. 1 catcher on the Tam baseball team. Graduated from Tam with a B plus average, he will major in engineering at University of California at Davis.

RICHARD COHEN lettered two years for the Drake High School football team and was used strictly on offense because of his fine blocking ability. He was the one who opened many a hole for Dean Lazzarini to get through. He was given honorable mention all-league for his specialty last year.

SPECTACULAR FLIGHT OF THE GOLDEN TROUT

By JOHN D. COX

BISHOP — (UPI) — The twin-engine Beechcraft crested the razor-like top of a barren glacial saddle near the jagged minarets and dove toward a tiny, prisine clear lake.

"Now!" yelled pilot Carroll Face as he brought the roaring craft into a steep climb to avoid the huge rocky peak towering over the other side of the lake.

At that instant, Darrell Yount yanked a lever immediately behind the cockpit and thousands of beautiful, delicate golden trout went sailing through the crisp, thin air to a new home.

It was a direct hit. It almost always is.

The maneuver was repeated more than a hundred times over this week as the Department of Fish and Game airplane danced along the crest of the highest of the high country in the annual planting of the most beautiful of trout, California's state fish.

It began on Mulkey Creek, a small tributary to the south fork of the Kern River, in the 1870 when biologists accompanying the first survey team to the top of Mt. Whitney, discovered a new trout.

It was emblazoned with a brilliant orange to cherry-red belly, a dark olive back, shading down through lighter olive and lemon-golden sides. There were reddish-orange stripes midway along the sides, broken by dull-olive vertical bars.

It was a golden trout. And it was only in Mulkey Creek.

In 1876, Col. Sherman Stevens took 13 golden trout from Mulkey Creek in a coffee pot to his sawmill four miles away, where he planted them in Cottonwood Creek. The fish thrived in the previously barren creek.

In 1917, the state completed construction of Mt. Whitney hatchery. The following year, hatchery workers rode horseback through snow and ice to the 11,000-foot cottonwood lakes early in June when ice was still on the surface of the water.

There, as the ice began to break up around the creek entering the lakes, the men walked into the icy waters to trap already "ripe" females and strip them of their eggs. After the spawn, the eggs were taken by mule to the hatchery.

That's how it was done in 1918; and that is exactly how it is done today.

Raider Deal Is Uncertain

SANTA ROSA (AP) — The Denver Broncos' management denies that a trade of the Oakland Raiders for two linemen is nearly complete.

"We're talking with other clubs—not just the Raiders—on a Gilchrist trade," a spokesman said yesterday. "This is not to say that we won't get together with Oakland on a deal."

Reports from the Raider camp had indicated Tuesday that the trade would probably be made after Bronco coach Mac Speedie had a chance to view films of the Raiders' last game.

Quarterback Cotton Davidson, who re-injured some bruised ribs alst Saturday against San Diego, did some passing but remained a questionable starter for the game this Saturday against the Boston Patriots at Anaheim.

Coach John Rauch has indicated that he may start Charley Green, who was obtained from the Patriots, against his former teammates.

49er Foes Are Hurting

SALEM, Ore. (AP) — Chester Ward, rookie halfback from Rutgers, has been shifted to fullback as Pittsburgh Steelers coach Bill Austin tries to fill backfield gaps created by injuries.

Fullback Clarence Peaks hurt his back in an earlier scrimmage this week and is expected to be out of action for at least three weeks.

Austin said Dick Hoak will join Ward at the running back positions when the Steelers meet the San Francisco 49ers in an exhibition game in Portland Saturday night.

Another fullback, Mike Lind, missed last week's loss to the Minnesota Vikings with a broken hand and it is not certain whether he will play against the 49ers.

Dick Leftridge, the Steelers' No. 1 draft pick from West Virginia, joined the team after being hospitalized with an infected leg. Austin said Leftridge will not play Saturday night, but he is expected to eventually replace Peaks.

Swims The Channel

DOVER, England (AP) — Philip Kaye, a 29-year old British engineering professor, swam the English channel today from Cap Griz Nez, France, to this port. He was timed in 16 hours, 16 minutes.

Sohner Captures Softball Tourney

Sohner Tree Service won the seventh annual San Anselmo Invitational Softball Tournament last night with a 4-0 record by crushing Luna's of San Francisco, 16-2, at the Hub City's Memorial Park.

With the final two tournament games scheduled tonight and tomorrow evening, three teams will be battling for second place in the round robin tournament. Marin All-Stars (2-1), Two-Rock Army of Petaluma (1-2) and Luna's (1-2) are the clubs who can still grab the runner-up spot.

Two-Rock meets Larkfield Merchants of Santa Rosa (0-3) tonight at 6:30 while Luna's and Marin All-Stars tangle Friday.

After Luna's had taken a 2-1 second inning lead on Lloyd Creemer's two-run homer, Sohner errupted for five runs in the third and then added another five in the fourth to put the game on ice.

The win was Sohner's 14th in a row and pushed the season record to 56 wins and 14 losses.

		R	H	E
Sohner	105 540 1	16	17	1
Luna's	020 000 0	2	5	5

Marlin McKeever Loses A Finger In Accident

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Marlin McKever, tight end for the Los Angeles Rams, lost the ring finger of his right hand in an automobile accident last night.

McKeever, 26, a former Southern California star and six-year National Football League veteran, was a passenger in a car driven by Ram quarterback Roman Gabriel when their vehicle crashed into a parked car in nearby Costa Mesa, police reported.

Doctors at Hoag Memorial Hospital in Newport Beach said the Ram co-captain suffered traumatic amputation of the finger, lacerations of the arm and hand and a fractured right index finger.

A Rams' spokesman said there was no indication whether McKeever will be able to play this season.

Marlin's twin brother, Mike, also a star at USC, remains semi - conscious after an auto crash Dec. 4. Mike received critical head injuries and was unconscious until March 18. He has regained movement in his arms and legs, but is unable to respone to commands.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

You Better Believe It: There Are Stripers In San Pablo Bay

STEVENS

You can't always believe what you read in the paper regarding the fishing in certain areas. I had a call from an angler living in the East Bay. He insisted that there are no fish in the San Pablo Bay. He claimed to have read those very words in two San Francisco newspapers. I hope he was convinced that was a grievous error.

There most certainly are fish — oodles of nice stripers in the San Pablo Bay—have been for several days. For example: Party boats out of Dowrelio's Crockett Harbor had 88 fishermen aboard over the weekend. For the two days 144 bass were boated (all taken in late evening on artificials). On Monday Johnny Sivera on the Dowrelio No. 5 boat with eight rods working unloaded 13 bass to 15 pounds. Productive areas apparently were buoys 8, 10 and 12.

TO PROVE THAT stripers have been around the upper San Pablo Bay, two ambitious anglers were picked up by a game warden with 27 bass in the skiff off Dillon's Point. And, reporting on the action at Dillon's Point by the shore casters on Monday morning, five plug-casters took five limits of bass; Angler Read, one of the regulars, landed one 7 and one 12-pounder on Tuesday. For the past few days bait fishing with blood worms and pile worms has been extremely good. One newcomer to that hot spot limited out on bait for seven consecutive days (late evening).

THAT HARDLY sounds like "There are no fish in San Pablo Bay," does it? To top it all off, Carl Bennett of the Rodeo Marina called to wax eloquent over the sudden burst of action on Monday. The 2 Dares boat accounted for two-fish-per rod off Buoy 6, bass ran from 8 to 27 pounds; The Blue Marlin netted limits for seven rods with bass to 18 pounds, the Pet had eight limits of bass averaging around five pounds, and skiffs working the outfall waters took limits and near limits.

NO, ANY REPORT that there are no fish in the San Pablo Bay is not true.

It is a fact that this is the time of the year when a slackening of catches on artificials might be expected and most of the fishing becomes bait fishing, but that time hasn't happened as yet. I would say that now or for the next week at least, your chances of connecting with hardware are very, very good in the San Pablo Bay on the Contra Costa side.

BETTY URBAIS of the Sausalito Boat and Tackle called Tuesday to report rock-fishing off the north Farallones has been very good. "Our boat, the Blue Horizon, took a group of 30 out after rockfish and came home with 480 assorted fish including 15 lings to 24 pounds," said Betty, and then added, "Some nice catches of striped bass have been made near Elephant Rock at Tiburon, off the rock or off the shore on the low tide, using sardine baits and jigs."

Paradise Cove Leads League

The Paradise Cove Yacht Club softball team vaulted into the league lead in the 16-inch Slow Pitch League sponsored by the San Rafael Recreation Department with a 7-4 triumph over Hiller's Tuesday night behind Bob Randell, at Albert Field.

In other action Tuesday night, Emporium whipped Maritime, 11-4, on the same diamond.

The standings in the Slow Pitch League:

Dean Jennings' Former Tiburon Bookstore Gets New Owners

Tiburon Books at 13 Main Street has been purchased by Mrs. Anne Cundall and Mrs. Marjorie Whitelaw, residents of Tiburon and neighbors. They purchased from Sandra and Billy Ellis, a San Francisco couple, who bought it from the Jennings.

Mesdames Cundall and Whitelaw are taking turns keeping it open from 11:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesdays through Fridays and from 11:30 to 6 Saturdays and Sundays. Closed Mondays. Same store name will be retained; stocks include current fiction and non-fiction, paperbacks and a children's corner. For browsers there's a "reading pit" in the back of the store.

WORD HAS BEEN going around that A-1 Auto Parts of Mill Valley has been sold to American Parts System. Not so —the latter firm just happens to be the main distribution house supplying the store with merchandise, says John J. Wolfersperger of Paradise Cove, who purchased A-1 only last April from R. N. Ward and is still operating the business.

GOLDEN BAY RAMBLER has completed its "new look" at 1731 Fourth Street, San Rafael and is celebrating its grand opening this week.

Owner William Blaskower has brought in blocks of Rambler cars and has acquired a good supply of late model used vehicles. Service and maintenance departments are in full swing, operated by Rambler specialists. Golden Bay now has a total staff of about 19 employees.

FOR THE TIME BEING, if not permanently, Blumenfeld Enterprises presumably will give up the idea of building a motion picture theater in the Montecito Shopping Center. Space originally allocated is now the site of the Montecito Plaza addition where construction is under way for more stores and shops — so there doesn't seem to be room for a showhouse. The Blumenfelds recently added another theater in Sacramento to the chain.

SALES AGENT Jean Bell (Bell Associates) for Harbor Village Townhouses on Canal Street, San Rafael, between Larkspur and Novato Streets, reports that about 75 per cent of all sales have been to existing Marin County residents and most sales have been to couples who were previously renting—primarily to working couples.

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION have been reported filed with the secretary of state for the Marin County Ready-Mix Concrete Credit Assn.

Members of the association are listed as Camgros Gravel and Fuel, Inc., McPhail's, E. Pozzi Co., Rich Readimix Concrete, Inc. and Shamrock Materials, Inc.

LATEST EDITION of Bank of America's Small Business Reporter has to do with the independent variety store which is being faced with heavy competition from discount houses and super-drug stores. Leroy Rudolph, vice president and manager of the bank's San Rafael offices, reports that copies are available through local branches.

THERE WILL BE a grand opening of the new Peacock Hill Cabana Club and swimming pool at the Peacock Hill Towhouses, 72 Biscayne Drive (corner of Riviera Drive), Peacock Gap tomorrow from 4 to 7 p.m. A complimentary wine tasting with hors d'oeuvres from from nearby Peacock Gap Country Club will be served. Gabriel Lehrer of Tamarin Realty Associates is in charge and will be on hand to answer questions on the property.

Marin Home Sales Drop 26 Per Cent

I-J Special Report

WASHINGTON — Home sales in Marin County fell 26 per cent in the first six months of this year, Rep. Don H. Clausen reported on the floor of Congress this week.

Clausen cited the figure during a speech in which he labelled the federal government "the real culprit in the tight money situation." He was supporting a bill, which the house then passed, to pump $4.5 billion into the home mortgage market.

Construction of homes has dropped 35 per cent in the same period, Clausen said. He attributed these and other figures to chambers of commerce and central labor councils in his district.

The government, Clausen charged, has used high interest rates as "the carrot on the sitck" to entice savings out of banks and savings and loan associations, thus damaging the homebuilding, real estate and lumber industries.

Another Sales Record By Consolidated Food

CHICAGO — Sales and earnings of Consolidated Foods Corp. reached record highs for the 11th consecutive time in the fiscal year ended June 30, it has Cummings, Chairman, and William Howlett, president.

Sales reached $847,706,391, an increase of 7.2 per cent over volume of $790,108,918 in the previous fiscal year.

Stocks Close Lower; Many Factors Cited

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed sharply lower today. Final dealings were active.

Some prices were above their lows, but the improvement was slight over-all. A big feature of the day was a drop of 15⅜ to 200⅛ in Xerox before trading was halted in the stock. It recovered a couple of points but then was down to about a 14-point loss in late dealings.

General Electric halved a 2-point loss and Douglas Aircraft edged to the plus side after erasing a loss.

IBM remain down about 5 and many other stocks showed losses of 1 or 2 points.

Tight money, high interest rates and opposition to the latest proposed settlement of the airline strike by some union officials were cited as factors in the decline.

Volume for the day was estimated at 6.0 million shares compared with 6.63 million

Here was the picture near the close:

Brokers said Wall Street's pessimism thickened as a result of the further squeeze on credit by the Federal Reserve Board as well as later news that some of the machinists' union leaders have recommended rejection of the latest proposal for ending the airline strike.

Airlines were among losers but prices weakened across the board. The most dramatic losses were taken by some of the highest-priced glamor stocks.

Trading was halted in Xerox as it plunged 15⅜ points to 200⅛. IBM was down more than 7 points. Fairchild camera lost 4.

Off 2 points or more were Texas Instruments, Mallory, American Airlines and U.S. Smelting.

Down about a point were Du Pont, General Dynamics, International Nickel, High Voltage Engineering, Eastern Air Lines, Pennsylvania Railroad, Kennecott, Anaconda, Ampex, General Instrument and Grumman.

Sanders Associates and Avon Products advanced more than a point

Down about 3 were Motorola and Chicago North Western.

Another Skid For Home Building

WASHINGTON (AP) — Housing starts — a major economic barometer—dropped again during July to the lowest level since the depths of the 1960 recession, the Commerce Department reported today.

There were indications the level would go even lower.

The department said housing starts dropped 16.4 per cent to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 1,064,000, the lowest since December 1960.

The department reported another drop during July in the issuance of building permits, a factor which indicates a further drop in housing starts for August.

"We don't like it," was the immediate reaction of the National Association of Home Builders, which has contended for months that it's been the sacrificial lamb for the administration's anti-inflation program.

The home builders have blamed the tight money market for their plight. They contend high interest rates and tight money have siphoned funds away from home mortgages and into other fields.

"This is not the end of it," one association spokesman said today.

At the beginning of the year housing starts were at an annual rate of 1,611,000. They dropped in February but rose again in March to an annual rate of 1,569,000. The rate has declined steadily since.

In the six months from February through July, housing starts were 12 per cent below the previous six months and 11 per cent below February-July 1965, the department said.

The decline in July starts was general throughout the country, the department reported. The drop from 211,000 to 198,000 in the Northeast, from 299,000 to 255,000 in the North Central states, from 548,000 to 444,000 in the South and from 215,000 to 167,000 in the West.

The department said building permits issued in July would authorize construction of 75,700 new privately owned housing units, equivalent to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 902,000 units. The rate during June was 954,000 permits on an annual basis.

Soaring Loan Demands Keep Interest Rate Up

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Banks are charging the highest interest on loans since the 1920s. How can they raise their prime — or lowest — rate four times since December 1964 and get away with it? Because the demand for loans in a sizzling economy is booming faster than the supply of lendable funds. And customers are willing to pay the new 6 per cent prime rate, or up to 6½ and 7 per cent in most instances.

The banks will be getting a handsomer return on loans. But they hasten to point out that they are paying more interest for the deposits from which they can lend.

Theoretically, commercial banks can borrow from the Federal Reserve Bank at the official 4½ per cent discount rate and then lend that money to the select few — their best and most credit-worthy customers — for 6 per cent. That unusually big spread would seem, at first glance, to provide a very neat profit indeed. And the profit would be higher for the majority of borrowers who pay more than 6 per cent.

Actually the Fed keeps a very close watch on borrowing by member banks at its discount windows. Loans are for very short periods, usually to take care of a daily routine or some emergency. The Fed's policing rules forbid making such big profits on money borrowed from it.

Because the Fed frowns on such borrowings, banks have been borrowing from each other instead. They have lately paid as high as 5⅞ per cent for federal funds — the surplus reserve one bank may have temporarily at the Fed — and on a short-term basis, usually just overnight.

Banks raising their prime rate this week are saying the increase might dampen some of the big demand for loans, and thus help to keep the economy from overheating.

But many of their big customers say that hiking interest rates usually has little effect. For one thing, interest charges are deductible before taxes. For another, business firms are borrowing because they want to expand their plant or activities with an eye on making larger profits themselves, and are willing to pay the cost.

Would-be borrowers are usually able to find a lender — if they'll pay the price of the loan. This goes for consumer loans as well as business loans. The one place where a real pinch has been felt is in long-term home mortgages.

The supply of money has increased in recent months, but the volume of loans has gone up even faster. And this law of supply and demand has let the lending institutions raise interest charges. It works the same way as with a commodity.

To raise more funds to lend at higher rates, the banks and other financial institutions have been sweetening the inducements to investors by offering higher interest returns on their savings. And these high yields have lured many from the stock market, and from one competing financial institution to another.

What will higher borrowing costs do to business profits? Before-tax earnings will feel the added expense. But optimistic business borrowers expect that sales, and maybe prices and profits, will rise, too.

Debenture Issuance Approval Wanted

REDWOOD CITY — William E. Roberts, president and chief executive officer of Ampex Corp., has announced that he intends to propose for approval at the next board of directors' meeting on Aug. 23, the issuance of convertible debentures by the corporation.

The purpose of the issue will be to reduce the short term debt and to provide additional working capital. If approved, the offering will be made through underwriters.

OVER THE COUNTER

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

42 EDITORIAL PAGE Thurs., Aug. 18, 1966 San Rafael, Calif.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Nicasio Town Square Is An Important Landmark

It hadn't occurred to us that there was any need for action to "save" Nicasio's town square park.

It is impossible for us to think of Nicasio as something separate from its town square. Nor can we think of the central park as something separate or distinct from Nicasio.

They are all one and the same.

So it came as something of a shock to be reminded recently that Nicasio's town square is held in private ownership, by Nick Kobseff, one of Nicasio's most frequently heard from citizens.

One could probably say with considerable truthfulness that Nick Kobseff holds Nicasio's future in the palm of his hand.

If he were to let the town square go to some developer, Nicasio as we know it would no longer exist.

But Nick Kobseff doesn't want to sell Nicasio into limbo. He recognizes that Nicasio's most valuable asset is its quaint and wide-open atmosphere. This asset rests in part on the town square park. To liquidate it would be to give up all.

As we say, Nick Kobseff obviously perceives all this and it was therefore only logical that he seek to have the county take title to the park and assume responsibility for its proper maintenance.

So it is that he offers to donate the central park square to the county. He even has offered the acreage where his "Rancho Nicasio" restaurant stands, provided of course that he can continue to operate it as a concessionaire.

County parks and recreation director Pierre Joske has Kobseff's proposition under study and has indicated his intention to prepare a proposal for the park's future.

The park embraces only a tiny bit of property—two and three-quarters acres. The number of residents in and around Nicasio is but a tiny fraction of the county's total population.

But Nicasio's continued presence is important to most of us. Its "old Marin" flavor must be preserved. We hope the preservation can start with the county taking over the ancient plaza park.

CAPABLE LEADERS DESERVE SUPPORT

Point out to individuals with the capacity and motivation what great good they can do by serving in positions of leadership.

Find out beforehand their qualifications: Do they represent the best thinking of the group? . . . Will they move ahead prudently or rest on their oars? . . . Can they get along with people? . . . Do they have vision and initiative? . . . Will they train new persons to understudy them? . . . Are they persons of moral character?

Pray to God for guidance to know who will be the best qualified.

Act on the basis of such qualifications, not personal loyalty or selfish advantage.

Stand by them once they are elected.

"Everyone to whom much is given, of him will much be required." (Luke 12:48)

Grant me the vision and perseverance, Holy Spirit, to act on principle, not expediency.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Reagan May Be Actual Winner In Democrat Chairman Election

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The close election of Assemblyman Charles Warren, D-Los Angeles, as chairman of the Democratic state central committee, has behind it more than meets the eye.

Governor Edmund G. Brown's candidate for the post, Carmen Warschaw, also of Los Angeles, went down to a four-vote defeat in secret balloting at the central committee convention.

The immediate question raised by a lot of Democrats was "how can Governor Brown expect to win a state-wide election for a third term in office when he can't even control his own party?"

The answer to this pointed query can't be given by anyone until after November 8, but the fact remains that the governor's failure has merely widened rifts within the Democratic ranks and decreased the confidence of party members in their leader.

As one top Democrat put it when asked "who won" after the secret ballots were counted, he stated frankly but somewhat glumly, "Ronald Reagan."

It's no secret around Sacramento that several of the state's high ranking Democrats have conceded in their own minds that 1966 is going to be a Republican year. And although they continue to give lip-service to the party and the party nominees, they will play a more or less waiting game until after the election.

Thus, if the Senate and Assembly continue with a Democratic majority, and there is no indication so far there will be a GOP majority, it won't make too much difference if there is a Republican executive.

Two assemblymen already have complained that the party funds are all being diverted to the governor's campaign, to the detriment of some assemblymen and senators who need help.

It is recognized that Warren, an assemblyman, and also an assembly candidate, would be much more favorable to the diversion of some of the Democratic war chest to candidates other than the governor.

There is also some indication that two of Warren's backers, Lieutenant Governor Glenn Anderson and State Controller Alan Cranston, both facing tough races against the Republicans this year, could use some of the Democratic money for campaign purposes.

It's known that campaign funds are somewhat short this year. Democrats and Republicans alike are being hurt by the reluctance of heavy contributors to continue heavy, and also because of the increasing costs of campaign operations.

The Warren victory means one more thing, and that is the ultraliberals continue in control of the Democratic party, all of which no doubt will bring joy to the Republican campaign.

Vaccination Help Is Commended

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I wish to express to you this department's appreciation of your help in publicizing the public rabies vaccination clinics.

This year's clinics were very successful. In 11 clinics we vaccinated a total of 3,477 dogs, the largest number since 1958, the first year when public clinics were held. The average number of dogs vaccinated per clinic this year was 316, a number second only to last year's average of 345.

You render a real service to the public health when you assist in furthering our rabies control program.

Big Housecleaning Job Is Needed

Editor, Independent-Journal:

How could a Christian nation become involved in such a horrible slaughter of our own and other people? But the deeply disturbing truth is that we are not a Christian nation and have not been for a long time. Our President, Congress and our leaders throughout the nation do not seem oncerned over the welfare of our own and other peoples, but in grabbing what they can of power, money and "so-called popularity."

The indignation of the nation over the remarks of a Beatle is actually ludicrous for it is all too painfully and terrifyingly true and the people who profess to be shocked by it are those who have been afraid to look into the mirror and see themselves and their nation for what we really are — a nation of grabbers, totally concerned with itself and what it can get and dreadfully afraid of its own shadow. Pick up the paper each morning, listen to radio and TV and then look into your own souls. Whatever could make us think that our way of life must be thrust upon the people of the world however muchc they differ in beliefs and religion.

"God is dead!" So we are told by many of our religious leaders. But is He? Yes. He is dead in America but He can and He must rise again. God cannot be destroyed without destroying the inspiring and humbling and wonderful teachings of Jesus. No one has offered us anything to replace His words and Iiis personality. There is something utterly repulsive about the Beatles — in looks, action and words — and that is exactly what, as a nation, we are worshipping.

We do not talk about the war much any more. We carry on with our parties and our grabbing and our pretense that it all does not exist — and we turn off the news and listen to something shallow and that doesn't disturb our minds and involve our consciences. We are a shell-shocked nation, too numb and too afraid to even protest as we learn that the war must go on because its cessation would hurt our ECONOMY. And so the crippling and slaughter of our young men and of other innocent men, women and children goes on as the leader of our "Great Society" — a cheap name for a cheap product — stands beside the Beatles as our God. But do not condemn him either for he too is "The Face of Our Nation."

Let us demand from our leaders an immediate settlement of this conflict and the withdrawal of our men, and let us wisely and prayerfully assist a nation and a troubled world — cleaning our own house, sweeping out the filth and hypocrisy and replacing it with decency and courage and faith.

A Police State Isn't Answer

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I was very impressed with Mr. Daggett's willingness to forego one of his personal freedoms. I predict that the total outlawing of firearms would be as successful as the prohibition of alcoholic beverages was.

There is no way on earth that anyone can predict the future, whether it is razor blades, automobiles or clubs. The only way to end violence is by education.

Driver training and N.R.A. Hunter Safety, are but a few of the things being done to make this a better world. In three million years of the earth, one cannot expect 30-day miracles.

We sportsmen deplore misuse of firearms as well as the next one, but a police state is not the answer.

It Seems There Was A Mistake

Editor, Independent-Journal:

"Johnson Orders a Report on the Village Bombing," reads today's headline (Aug. 12) re the war in Vietnam. Why all the excitement? What is so special about this village? Well, it seems somebody goofed and 26 civilians, including eight children, all of whom were not programmed to die that week, went and got themselves bombed and napalmed to death.

What's the matter with our air-strike boys? Don't they know one enemy from the other? (Don't shoot, men, 'til you see the slant of their eyes.) Anyway, LBJ, whose burden has been heavy indeed, wants to know how come the wrong group of Viet natives got theirs that day. He should find consolation, though, in the thought that at least eight children will never grow up to offend our affluent, if inaccurate, way of life.

Spiritual Insight In Cartoons

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I would like to especially commend you for the printing of the perfectly splendid picture of Jack Hamm on your editorial page of Saturday, Aug. 6, entitled, "So Reads the Word of God."

What an inestimable service you are doing all of your readers by having these fine "religious cartoons," if I may use such a phrase, in your paper. Rather than "religious," "Christian" is a much more appropriate term. This one was one of Jack Hamm's very best I think, but his drawings are always wonderful and I hope you will continue having them as long as you have a paper.

Mr. Hamm's pictures carry a spiritual insight that really strikes to the human heart.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

HUMAN BEINGS, famous and inconspicuous alike, never tire of seeing their names in print—even linked to a completely inaccurate item in a bush-league gossip column. The late Sinclair Lewis confessed unashamedly that whenever he received a review copy of a new book of non-fiction, the first thing he did was to look in the index to see if his name was there.

Author Ben Hecht once cashed in on this universal weakness. In a secondhand bookshop, Hecht came upon several hundred copies of a technical treatise, marked down to a fraction of the original list price. The book was over 1,000 pages long, hopelessly dull, often unintelligible, and carried no index.

Hecht mailed copies anonymously to all his most important friends, with a typed note inside that red, "I believe you will wax justifiably indignant when you come across the numerous insulting references to you in this book."

The hunt, they say, went on for weeks.

THERE'S A PERKY little lady who lives alone at Fire Island—and loves it. When the beach in front of her house gets too crowded for her own comfort, she merely circulates quietly among the sun worshippers and bathers, shades her eyes, and exclaims, "Goodness, isn't that a fin out there?" In no time flat, she has the beach to herself.

Malaysian-Indonesia Peace Pact May Be Signpost For Viet Nam

WASHINGTON — There is now a nearly perfect pattern for the peaceful settlement of the Viet Nam war.

It has served to stop one Asian war. It can serve to stop another.

The three-year undeclared war between Indonesia and Malaysia has come to a declared end. There are close parallels between Sukarno's "Crush Malaysia" campaign and Ho Chi Minh's "Crush South Viet Nam" campaign.

IN EACH INSTANCE, aggression from one side against the other was evident. Malaysia did not initiate aggression against North Viet Nam.

After Malaysia received its independence from the British, Sukarno resorted to force to try to impose his version of "good government" on Malaysia. After the Geneva Conference divided Viet Nam at the 17th Parallel, so that each part would be free to rule itself, Ho Chi Minh resorted to force to try to impose his version of "good government" on South Viet Nam.

And here are the ways the peace treaty just signed by Indonesia and Malaysia provide a pattern for peace between North and South Viet Nam:

There was a voluntary undeclared truce. The Indonesians stopped fighting. The Malaysians stopped fighting. The same could be done in Viet Nam.

MALAYSIA DID not seek the defeat of Indonesia for its "Crush Malaysia" attacks. It did not seek to overthrow the Indonesian regime. Neither does South Viet Nam, or its allied defenders, seek the defeat of North Viet Nam or the overthrow of its regime.

Malaysia sought only one thing — that Indonesia stop attacking its territory and killing Malaysians. South Viet Nam seeks exactly the same—that Hanoi stop attacking its territory and killing South Vietnamese.

Malaysia made a significant concession to the Indonesian government. They agreed that general elections be held in the Borneo states of Sabah and Sarawak to redetermine their already recorded desire to be part of Malaysia.

THIS IS A GOOD concession. A United Nations team has already confirmed that an earlier plebiscite showed that the people of Sabah and Sarawak voted decisively to join Malaysia. Indeed, this was one of the reasons Sukarno decided the UN was such a bad organization. It was a sign of confidence and generosity that Malaysia agreed to another vote and this undoubtedly helped pave the way to end the fighting.

If Hanoi will similarly end its "Crush South Viet Nam" war, it is entirely possible to give the Viet Cong assurance that they can become eligible voters and vote their Communist convictions in the future as long as they stop trying to achieve their Communist ends by force and terror.

Finally, the Malaysian-Indonesian peace was achieved by negotiation; it was achieved entirely by Asians; both sides are winners.

The "Crush Malaysia" campaign was Sukarno's child. The pattern for peace emerged when he lost power. But Ho Chi Minh does not have to be toppled; he can end his war the same way anytime he wants to.

Poverty Junketing Would Help Budget

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — With the House shortly to vote on authorizing a $1.75 billion anti-poverty budget for the current fiscal year, it is time for the legislators to squarely face up to the inescapable fact that this costly program is a gigantic bust and should be discarded.

President Johnson has sternly lectured congressional leaders on the imperative need for stringent economy to meet the steadily soaring outlays for the Viet Nam conflict and to curb threatening inflation. For once, he is absolutely right.

And by the same token, no better start could be made on slashing needless government expenditures than by junking the immensely expensive anti-poverty boon-doggle.

AT ONE STROKE $1.75 billion in exceedingly dubious and wasteful spending could be saved. It's a perfect opportunity for Congress to meet the President's sound demand for economy, and simultaneously get rid of one of the most chaotic, extravagant and trouble-racked experiments in years.

Conceived in politics as a Democratic electioneering gimmic in the 1964 presidential campaign, the anti-poverty program has cost taxpayers more than $2.3 billion with no evidence of having made the slightest impact on poverty anywhere.

THE IRREFUTABLE proof of that is the almost daily riots and violent outbreaks—attributed in most cases to racial and civil rights factors. But, indisputably, underlying causes also are grinding want, joblessness and despair.

The various superficial projects the anti-poverty program has undertaken in a groping effort to cope with these highly volatile conditions have either been fantastically expensive for the meager and questionable results, or have bogged down in a welter of dissension, mismanagement, incompetence, bungling, chiseling, squandering and numerous other failings and abuses.

A STRIKING ILLUSTRATION of the basic incoherence and fallibility of the program is the fact that its top echelon has undergone virtually a 100 per cent turnover in its two-year existence. Director Sargent Shriver is the only original executive still remaining—and the inside word is he will depart after the November election.

Also in recent weeks, a number of Job Corps and Community Action officials have thrown up their hands and quit in frustration and disgust.

To date, the anti-poverty program has spent more than $55 million in salaries alone. Some 1,500 workers get more than $10,000 a year; of this number, 18 receive more than $25,000; 17 others more than $22,000; 19 others more than $19,000; 29 others more than $15,000. By contrast, of the approximately 300,000 U.S. troops in Viet Nam, less than 2,500 officers are paid $10,000—the basic pay of a colonel with 14 years' service. At least 25 anti-poverty officials receive more than General Westmoreland, commander in Viet Nam.

EVERY MAJOR PROJECT of the anti-poverty program has been a shambles of chaos and turmoil. This bedraggeld and wasteful record speaks for itself, as follows:

Of all the anti-poverty undertakings, the Community Action program has been the most controversial, confused, mismanaged, extravagant and ineffectual. An early pamphlet issued by Shriver's office titled "Community Action—A Hometown Fight," proved to be ironically accurate.

Whether Congress, with its eye on the November balloting, has the statesmanship and courage to ditch the wasteful and scandal-riddled $1.75 billion anti-poverty boondoggle is doubtful. There is a lot of political boodle in that huge grab-bag.

But the fight to end it should be made—and will be to the lasting credit of those legislators who make it.

Marin College Trustee Worried Over Administrator Contracts

This has been a rocky summer for the Marin Junior College District. Two of its top administrators have resigned to take new jobs and a third resignation is expected at any time.

All three men — President Stephen E. Epler, Planning Coordinator James W. Duke and Dean Roy G. Mikalson of the evening college and community services — were or are under contract to the college for their services. At least one district trustee, Elizabeth M. Deedy, is concerned about the ease with which their contracts can be broken.

THESE MEN, SHE SAID, are important employees of the district. They are well protected, themselves, against sudden cancellation of their contracts, yet they can cancel the same contracts with as little as 60 days notice to the district.

"All of the contract's protection seems to be on the side of the administrator," she said, "and this is not particularly fair to the district or the people of the district."

Mrs. Deedy said she has discussed this with Board President Robert E. Rogers and he has asked that copies of the district's administrative contract be mailed to all board members. When trustees have studied the contracts, Mrs. Deedy plans to ask that county counsel also look them over.

"I WANT HIS ADVICE on a contract to safe guard the district's interests," she said. "There should be something more binding than this. Perhaps we should make it mandatory that if the administrator breaks his contract, he should pay some sort of penalty. Perhaps that would deter some of this."

The safeguards to the administrator, she said, are many. If, after three and a half years on a four year contract, the college president has not been told formally that the contract will not be renewed, he automatically has another four year contract, according to Mrs. Deedy.

DISTRICTS WHICH WANTED to terminate a superintendent's contract midway through it have been known to buy it up — pay the administrator fully for the remaining time on the contract and let him go. Even then, the administrator may not have to leave if he does not want to go.

"I know of at least one case where the school board bought up the contract, only to have a court rule that the superintendent must be reinstated," she said.

MRS DEEDY does not expect the problem to ease. She points out that as the educational systems of other states improve, the demand for good administrators will increase. Dr. Mikalson, whose resignation has not yet been submitted, has been hired as president of a college in Oregon.

According to Mrs. Deedy, California school districts had best strengthen their contracts, or the state will become a training ground for administrators who, once trained, will move on out of state.

Wrong-Way Driver Says Innocent

M/Sgt. Kenneth O. Henderson, 41, pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to felony counts of drunken driving and manslaughter in the Monday traffic collision on Highway 101 which killed a 32-year-old Mill Valley social worker.

Judge Peter Allen Smith scheduled preliminary hearing for 1:30 p.m. Sept. 8.

California Highway Patrol said Henderson was driving north in the highway's southbound lanes near Waldo Tunnel when his vehicle slammed into one driven by Gene Edward Darrow, of 116 Marguerite Avenue, Mill Valley.

The production of cigarillos in Sweden, which began in the middle 1950s, increased by 42 per cent during 1963-64 as large numbers of people turned to cigarillo smoking in lieu of cigarettes.

NMWD Let Two Contracts For New Vehicles

Schuman Chevrolet Co. of Novato, lower of two bidders, was awarded two contracts for vehicles Tuesday night by the North Marin County Water District Board.

The company was given a $4,689 contract for a two-ton dump truck and a $3,304 contract for a heavy duty van.

The North Bay County Water District Board, also:

1. Refused to pay a portion of $3,580 in added costs for reworking the facia on its new office building at 999 Atherton Avenue as requested by the contractor Joseph R. Filippo, but credited Filippo with $1,180 for handrails in the front of the building and $2,260 for floor tile which was deleted in favor of a rug.

2. Approved and agreement with Marin Municipal Water District to furnish water to the Camillo Magniso restaurant in the Sundown Shopping Center south of Hamilton Air Force Base.

Air Meet Cancelled

Meeting of the Marin County Aviation Commission Tuesday night was cancelled for lack of a quorum when commissiners Joseph Wright, Tris Coffin, Douglas M. Christensen and A. Melville Dickson failed to appear. Next meeting will be Sept. 20.

Arraignment In Fire Case

Army S/Sgt. Robert B. Reed, 25, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court Tuesday on three felony counts of starting Chileno Valley fires. He was to enter plea this afternoon.

Sergeant Reed, based at Two Rock Ranch Station in Sonoma County, allegedly started a June 13 grass fire on the Dolcini Ranch, a June 20 fire on the Hey Ranch, and a July 20 fire on the Bragga Ranch.

He was placed in Marin County Jail in lieu of $1,650 bail.

Minor Damage Caused To Inboard Motorboat

Sheriff's officers said yesterday someone caused minor damage to a 16-foot inboard motorboat on a trailer owned and parked at the residence of Donald Law and Peter Hammes at 10 Seadrift Landing, Tiburon.

Deputies said it appeared that ignited matches or a cigarette lighter were applied around the edges of the craft's cover. Damage resulted to both the cover and to varnish on the boat's upper edge, they said.

The first nonstop air crossing of the Atlantic was made in 1919 by a British plane.

Furor Still Going Over Letter Of Defamation Group To Reagan

I RECALL, NOSTALGICALLY, a far kindlier America when men could differ politically and still be firm friends. They might josh each other good-naturedly during a campaign but, once the returns were in, both would join in a toast to the winning candidate and wish him well.

But now it is difficult to get Republicans and Democrats of any given creed to attend the same church. In 1964, many of the liberal clergy turned their pulpits into soapboxes, proclaimed God was a Democrat, and intimated Sodom and Gomarrah had been destroyed because they were for Goldwater. And some 27,000,000 heretics have suffered social ostracism ever since.

I noted recently that the California Demos were employing the same sort of hooey against Ronald Reagan. E.g., when Reagan addressed a group of governors at a Los Angeles club, the Anti-Defamation League demanded to know how Ronnie had eaten at a club which, the ADL asserted, bars Jews as members.

A DISCLAIMER from Milton A. Senn, ADL regional director for this area, asserts I owe the League an apology: "The ADL never make any demands of Reagan to explain his appearance; all candidates were sent identical letters; and the only ones who have intimated partisanship are Reagan and you. I wonder if the shoe isn't pinching."

(That last deduction seems right out of Goebbels. The Jews were accused of crimes against the state; they denied the charges and intimated partisanship. Ergo, they were guilty.)

"What intrigues me," continues Mr. Senn, "is how you know about this correspondence between the ADL and Mr. Reagan."

Let me, before apologizing, explain that I got the correspondence in the now usual way. I secretly paid two of Ronnie's secretaries to photostat his files for me.

AND NOW FOR THE RECORD. The Democratic Campaign has one tune: "Reagan is the tool of anti-labor, anti-Negro, anti-Semitic and anti-Catholic interests." Among the names listed in evidence are Henry Salavtori and Pat Frawley. I happen to know both gentlemen and, if they're anti-Catholic, Ben-Gurion is a Nazi. And Reagan's hundreds of Jewish friends in Hollywood —many of them ADL members give the lie to another defamation.

After Reagan addressed the governors, Tom Rees, liberal Democratic congressman from my district and a thoroughly worthy successor to Jimmy Roosevelt, made headlines by crying out that Reagan had proven bigotry by his attendance at the club.

Immediately after, by the strangest coincidence, Ronnie received a letter signed by Maxwell B. Greenberg, President of ADL. I give the gist only to save space and hereby solemnly affirm nothing is out of context:

"For years, the ADL has viewed with growing concern the extent of social club discrimination locally . . . We urge that in selecting meeting sites, and in accepting invitations to meetings, you exclude from consideration private social clubs which maintain discriminatory barriers."

HERE'S REAGAN'S answer (similarly cut): "I assume you refer to the Governors' Breakfast at which I was a guest. I am assured there is nothing discriminatory in the club's by-laws.

"Governor Brown is an honorary member of this club, and played golf there a few days before the breakfast. It seems strange this becomes a matter of concern only when a Republican affair is in progress.

"It is a matter of record that some years ago I joined a local country club and resigned, making public my reasons, when I discovered they did have discriminatory rules. I have never belonged to a club since."

There was no reply. Nor was the letter made available to the various local Jewish sheets which ran the "proof" that he was anti-Semitic.

Incidentally, has Pat Brown resigned from the club? And if not, won't the sterling liberal Democrats who now control ADL support him anyway?

An apology is certainly due —but not from me. From the ADL to Ronnie.

Former Tiburon School Trustee Proposes Unification Criteria

Leo Souza of Tiburon has come up with a proposal for new criteria for school district unification which harks back to an almost-forgotten basis: the city.

Souza, former Reed School District trustee, is a long-time opponent of the proposed "one big district" unification of the Tamalpais High School District area. As chairman of Citizens for Sensible Unification, he presented his suggestions last week to the California Senate Fact Finding Committee on Education, which heard the present unification laws and practices both roundly condemned and doggedly defended.

THE CITIZENS for Sensible Unification chairman was among those who roundly condemned. In his written presentation, he declared:

"Under existing laws, as administered by the State Board of Education, the odds for establishing unified districts throughout the state voluntarily are extremely small. If forced by legislative mandate, acceptance will be reluctant at best . . .

"Legislation that imposes bonuses and penalties breeds contempt and distrust. . . . A program that presupposes all existing high school districts will automatically produce efficient unified school districts is illogical and fallacious."

HE SUGGESTED new legislation providing, among other things, that "each newly established unified school district, wherever possible, should be coterminous with the incorporated city and the environs it serves."

Souza thus suggested return to a basis for school organization which was recognized in the oldest truly public school in what is now the United States, and in the first school law passed by the California Legislature.

THE OLDEST SCHOOL, the Boston Latin School, was voted into existence at a Boston town meeting on April 23, 1635. Within a few years, other towns in Massachusetts and Connecticut followed Boston's lead in setting up town schools. Basing school systems on the city or town was widely followed thereafter, and still is in some states.

The first school law of California, enacted in 1851, provided for the establishment of high schools "by any city, town, or village having more than 400 scholars," on petition of two-thirds of the voters.

SOUZA SUGGESTED also that "successive unification proposals must consider the prior actions of the people," doing away with the vote-every-two-years provision of present unification law.

He urged that reorganization of local school districts be accompanied by "reorganization of the California school system . . . from top to bottom." Unified districts, he suggested, would make the county school system obsolete.

Souza proposed also abolishment of the whole present system of school financing, with its local voter-controlled "general purpose operating tax" and uncontrolled "over-rides," and its complicated system of state aid.

IN ITS PLACE he suggested a statewide property tax earmarked for education, with the rate fixed between $2 and $3 per $100 assessed valuation. This, he wrote, could be supplemented by district levies, "after ratification by the electorate, to cover extraordinary expenditures such as higher salaries due to local competitive rates, higher transportation costs, special programs wanted by the community," etc. It should also be supplemented by earmarking a portion of the state sales tax for schools, he urged.

"The Legislature should provide the means and the vehicle to promote quality education. The local unified school board should be given the responsibility to get the job done," declared Souza.

And, he said, "the vast majority of people actually favor the establishment of sensible unified school districts."

The difficulty, of course, is that people don't agree on what is "sensible." But the Senate committee might do much worse than adopting some of Souza's ideas. The present laws seem to have created more friction than unification.

House Approves Anti-Dognapping Compromise Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has approved a compromise bill aimed at combating dognaping and fostering humane treatment of animals to be used in laboratories.

Dealers would be required to keep records of animals and to identify them so that lost or stolen pets might be recovered.

Laboratories and other research centers would have to register with the Agriculture Department, but would not be required to obtain licenses.

Both laboratories and dealers would be subject to inspection but no interference with actual research or experimentation would be permitted.

Violators could be punished by fines up to $1,000 and up to one year imprisonment.

Mail Box Fire Was Set, Say Police

About a dozen pieces of mail were destroyed by fire in a mail box at Golden Hind Boulevard and Los Ranchitos, San Rafael police reported yesterday.

Evidence was found some form of burning material had been dropped in the box, police said.
